3 OFFICERS RESIGN; BAR ASSN. TO PROBE RUBY AND LOMBARD

State Historical and Natural History Society

Police Inquiry Results in Withdrawal of Detective Gavin and Patrolmen Pfost and Ten Eyck; Davis Exonerated; Blanch Peltier Guilty; Lawyers Tried "Frameup?"

Thomas J. Gavin, detective, resigned.
A. W. Ten Eyck, patrolman, resigned.
Erastus Pfost, patrolman, resigned.

James W. Davis, patrolman, charged with conduct unbecoming an officer while on duty at the Denver and Rio Grande station, examined and exonerated.

Blanch Peltier, proprietor of the Vendome, and whose trial brought out the alleged corruption of the police department, found guilty in the district court of conducting a disorderly house.

Grievance committee of the El Paso County Bar association will investigate the statement sworn to by Adele Gilman that Attorneys W. D. Lombard and W. N. Ruby were parties to an alleged attempt to compromise Assistant District Attorney Burns. No charges have been filed with the association, as has been reported.

The above summarizes the developments yesterday and last night in the police scandal which was brought to light in the district court Thursday in the trial of Blanch Peltier.

The resignations of Gavin, Ten Eyck and Pfost yesterday were not unexpected, following their examination Thursday night by Mayor Avery, Commissioner Himebaugh and Acting Chief Stark. At that time the men were suspended until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, where their hearings were continued.

The sessions were held in the mayor's office and resulted in the signed resignations of each being turned in to Commissioner Himebaugh. They will be acted upon this morning at an announced meeting of the city council, and in the opinion of those in touch with the situation, there is no doubt that all will be accepted.

DaVis Exonerated.

James W. Davis, a member of the department for the last 10 years, was investigated yesterday, following charges that his conduct at the Denver and Rio Grande station was at times unbecoming an officer. The charges were found to be without foundation, officials of the Denver and Rio Grande and the Rock Island telling the investigation committee that reports coming to them had been greatly exaggerated. More than a dozen witnesses testified to his work at the station and said that they had no complaints to make or criticisms to offer.

While the resignations yesterday of Gavin, Ten Eyck and Pfost practically close their investigation—that is, so far as can be learned—it is understood that the work of inquiry and examination into the conduct of one or two other members will continue.

Possibly the bomb exploded by the district attorney's office will cause the heads of the department to look into the work and conduct of the men under them, so that it will not be necessary for the office of the district attorney to furnish more information of the character of that which resulted in the prompt resignations of Detective Gavin and Patrolmen Ten Eyck and Pfost.

"This office proposes to keep right after the rooming houses," said Assistant District Attorney Burns last night, "and we are not going to let up until everyone of them is obeying the law."

Bar Association to Investigate.

Another feature of the Peltier-Gilman-police case yesterday developed when it was learned that the grievance committee of the El Paso County Bar association will investigate charges made by Adele Gilman in an affidavit, alleging that Attorneys Lombard and Ruby were parties to an alleged attempted "frame-up" against Assistant District Attorney Burns. The matter is in the hands of the grievance committee and will be reported to the bar association at the earliest possible date, it is said. Lombard and Ruby were attorneys for Mrs. Peltier, and also were on Mrs. Gilman's bond, it is declared, until it was learned that she would turn state's evidence, when they withdrew. They announced their withdrawal yesterday as counsel for Mrs. Smith, now on trial in the district court and also charged with keeping a disorderly house at the Vendome with the Peltier woman.

The district attorney's office declared last night that social conditions in Colorado Springs must be cleared up, and that if the police department does not do it, the district attorney and his assistants will.

"Under the law," said District Attorney Furcell, "this office has as much power as a grand jury, and I intend to use the power given my office to clean up this town. Conditions in some parts of it have been shown to be terrible, and we proopse to go the limit."

It has not yet been determined whether District Judge W. S. Morris will be asked to call a special grand jury to assist in the work of cleansing the city from a moral standpoint. He said yesterday that if conditions can

GOVT. CAUTIOUS FRIEDMANN CURE

WILL REQUIRE TIME TO DETERMINE MERITS

Warns Public Not to Make Long Journeys to Take Treatment

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The public health service, through Surgeon General Blue, issued its first statement today relative to the government investigation of Dr. F. F. Friedmann's alleged tuberculosis cure. The statement, which emphasizes the government's policy to proceed cautiously, is as follows:

"On March 3 the secretary of the treasury, on the recommendation of the general surgeon of the public health service, caused a board of medical officers to be detailed to make a thorough investigation of Dr. Friedmann's alleged cure for tuberculosis.

"These officers proceeded immediately to New York and arranged with Dr. Friedman for demonstrations of his remedy on persons suffering from tuberculosis. These demonstrations are being carried on in certain New York hospitals through the courtesy of their respective authorities and will be continued until sufficient information has been obtained for the forming of an opinion as to the merits of the treatment.

"Dr. Friedmann has submitted to the board a culture of the bacteria which he states are used in his method of treatment. In addition to the observation of persons under treatment by Dr. Friedmann, the board of officers will make experiments to ascertain whether this culture is, as Dr. Friedman claims, harmless to warm-blooded animals.

Time Required for Tests.

"Considerable time will necessarily be required to carry out these investigations, but the work will be carried out as rapidly as possible.

"In the meantime, the public is informed of the inadvisability, in the great majority of cases, of traveling long distances in the hope of receiving treatment, as those selected for demonstration purposes constitute only a small proportion of applicants.

"Certain statements purporting to be expresions of the opinion of the board of nine officers of the public health service bearing on the investigation have appeared in newspapers. These men have expressed no opinion and will not be in a position to do so until the work has progressed sufficiently to warrant some conclusion

GOVERNORS DUE IN SPRINGS AUGUST 26

The date for the conference of governors, which is to be held in Colorado Springs next summer, and which Governor Ammons has scheduled to begin Tuesday, August 26, has proved acceptable to the organization. The Chamber of Commerce received definite word to this effect from the governor yesterday. Ammons has received acceptances from 40 governors of states, and hopes to get the acceptances of the rest in the near future.

TEATMENT TO BE TRIED HERE?

FRIEDMANN MAY COME TO PRINTERS HOME

Two Locals Favor Plan, but Supt. Deacon Says Not Desirable at Present

Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann will be asked to come to Colorado Springs to demonstrate his treatment for tuberculosis in the Union Printers home, according to a report from Denver to the effect that the Denver Typographical union at a meeting tomorrow will take up the matter of joining with the movement started by the Typographical union of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, to bring the eminent German scientist to this part of the country.

Officers of the Denver union are quoted as stating that definite plans have not yet been formed, but that every inducement will be brought to bear on the national organization, with headquarters in Indianapolis, to have Dr. Friedmann come to the home.

Members of the Denver union believe that the home, on account of its location, facilities for treatment and character of cases represented, is one of the best institutions in the country for the demonstration and investigation of the new method.

Charles W. Deacon, superintendent of the home, said last night:

"So far as I know there has been no request made to the management or the officers of the board of trustees to bring Dr. Friedmann to this institution, and such action will be necessary before the demonstrations could be given here.

"Almost weekly we have many propositions from persons with alleged cures for tuberculosis, but the board of trustees has taken the position that members of this institution shall not be experimented upon, and that no remedy is admitted until its efficacy is proved.

"When Dr. Friedmann has demonstrated beyond all doubt that he has a cure for tuberculosis, we will welcome his treatment most gladly in the Union Printers home, but he will not be permitted to experiment upon the members of this institution."

M'COMBS DECLINES POST TO BRITAIN

Wilson Finds Few Who Will Accept Ambassadorships to Foreign Countries

WASHINGTON, March 21.—William F. McCombs, chairman of the National Democratic committee, tonight issued the statement announcing that he had declined to become ambassador to France.

"I do not feel that I can afford to leave my life work, the practice of the law," said Mr. McCombs. "I feel compelled to devote myself to my personal affairs and at the same time I will lend my assistance in my power that will contribute to the success of the Democratic administration and the Democratic party."

WASHINGTON, March 21.—President Wilson is making an effort to fill the more important diplomatic posts before the extra session of congress begins so that he may otherwise devote his energies when the time for legislation arrives.

The president is desirous of filling the American embassy at London as quickly as possible, and is said to be in hopes that Charles W. Eliot, former president of Harvard, will accept, although there were intimations among some of Dr. Eliot's friends today that he may decline. George W. Guthrie, former mayor of Pittsburg, and Democratic state chairman in Pennsylvania, has been chosen to be ambassador to Mexico, but it is likely to be deferred until the state department formulates its policy with regard to recognition of the Huerta government. It is certain, however, that the resignation of Henry Lane Wilson, present ambassador to Mexico, which has been submitted, will be accepted.

That Prof. Henry Burchard Fine of Princeton university can be ambassador to Germany, if he chooses, was learned from callers at the White house today.

Prof. J. W. Jenks of Cornell university was a White house caller today. He has been very much interested in the selection of John R. Mott of Montclair, N. J., the Y. M. C. A. leader, to be minister to China, and is said to be urging Mr. Mott on behalf of the president, to accept the post.

For the ambassadorships to Italy, Austria, Brazil, Russia, Turkey and Japan, no definite selections have been made, though Justice James W. Gerard of New York, Augustus Thomas, Thomas Nelson Page, Seth Low and William Church Osborne are still being prominently mentioned in this connection.

It is likely that John W. Garrett will continue as minister to Argentina and Maurice Francis Egan as minister to Denmark.

Joseph E. Willard of Virginia, Thomas H. Birch of New Jersey, Frederick C. Penfield of New York, are also regarded as certain ministers in the foreign service.

The president took up chiefly routine matters with his cabinet at the meeting today. Tomorrow he will meet the Illinois vice commission.

CLAYTON WILL BE OUSTED SOON?

Auditor Kenehan Brings Matters to a Head by Demanding an Investigation

PHILP BILL MAY NOT PASS

Insurance Commission Offers to Make Good Apparent Shortage in Funds

By R. M. McCLINTOCK.

DENVER, March 21.—Even Governor Ammons has been forced at last to realize that something must be done to end the scandal in the insurance department. Today it appears that Clayton can hold his office but a few days more, at least, and that the Philp bill, at least in its present form, will not pass the house.

It is Auditor Ready Kenehan who is chiefly responsible for bringing things to a head. The auditor doesn't like the way things are running in the insurance and other departments. He believes all funds should be turned over every day to the state treasurer. He has a bill providing for this now pending in the senate.

Kenehan has been quietly investigating the insurance commissioner's office. He has come across financial dealings that need explanation. He has come to the conclusion that the Philp bill unduly increases the power of the insurance commissioner, and makes no provision for the protection of the state funds.

Governor Calls Conference.

Kenehan laid the results of his investigation before the governor. Last night the governor called a conference in his office, attended by Senators Hilts, Cross, Tobin, Burris, Adams, Van Tilborg and Tierney, Representatives Skinner, P. B. Gates, Ardourel, Slattery and Dailey, Auditor Kenehan and a few others.

At this conference Kenehan is said to have laid down the law. He de-

FORMER GOV. BLACK OF NEW YORK DEAD

Expressed Regret That He Was Unable to Finish Case in Court

TROY, N. Y. March 22 (Saturday).—Former Gov. Frank S. Black, long prominent in Republican politics, died at his home here this morning. Valvular disease of the heart, with which he had been afflicted for some time, was the cause.

Mr. Black was born in Limington, Me., March 8, 1853. It was while he was governor that Mr. Black, while walking up the steps at the capitol one day first discovered that his heart action was weak. It was not until last August, however, that the disease took an alarming turn. He recovered partially and subsequently appeared in an argument before the United States supreme court at Washington. Later his illness again took an alarming turn.

Governor Black insisted that he be told the exact nature of his illness and the physicians informed him that the end was only a question of time. The governor received the news calmly, expressing regret that an important case in which he was to have heard before the United States supreme court had not been finished before his fatal illness. A few hours later he became unconscious and remained so until the end.

UNION STATION BADLY NEEDED

DEPOT COMMISSION SETS FORTH WORK OF YEAR

Comprehensive Report to the Council Cites Strong Arguments for Plan

The annual report of the Union Depot commission for 1912, which covers 37 typewritten pages, gives an excellent idea of the work being done by its members. The commission, which was created by the passage of a city ordinance July 5, 1911, presented its report to the council yesterday.

Thirty-three pages of the report are devoted to reading matter relating to the aims and purposes of the commission and the work thus far accomplished, and four pages are occupied by illustrations and drawings of the proposed union station which it is sought to have erected on the site of the Denver & Rio Grande station.

The commission points out that Colorado Springs should have a natural growth, that it should be a city of health, beauty and prosperity, and a pleasure resort known throughout the world and an important point on a transcontinental railway route.

"But," the report declares, "it will fail in all these unless there is a substantial change in present railway conditions. No one thing would do so much for the permanent welfare of the city as the establishment of a union terminal and the concentration of railway traffic in the Monument valley; the natural concomitant of this being the reclamation and improvements of the Santa Fe-Shooks run district. For the accomplishment of this, should we fail to make use of the present opportunity, no other may be afforded."

Two Objections Made.

Plans for a union depot at first, the report states, proposed to divert only the passenger traffic of the Santa Fe to the Monument valley tracks, but later the advisability became apparent to have all traffic handled on the west side. The Santa Fe made two objections to this proposal; first, the great cost involved, and second, the necessity of grades of prohibitory magnitude in connecting with the Rio Grande north of the city. Connections to the south, it is said, could be easily accomplished.

Answering the first objection of the Santa Fe, that of cost, the commission points out that "if your company could save the cost of a new passenger depot and additional trackage, with its high embankments through the city, costly undercrossings, watchmen, electric alarms and interlocking plants, to say nothing of accidents and resulting damage suits; also the salvage to be gained from trackage, buildings, bridges, lands, rights-of-way, etc., and use the proceeds in whole or in part to establish yourselves with the proposed union depot or terminal company, you would effect a substantial gain instead of suffering loss. As for business, you would be in the midst of it instead of on the outside."

The commission also adds that should the diversion of traffic be accomplished, it proposes to establish an improvement district covering the Santa Fe-Shooks run section, providing for a system of attractive parking.

The Matter of Grades.

In the matter of grades, the report points out that the grade of the Santa Fe is 1 per cent from Pueblo to Pring, and 1.40 per cent from Pring to Palmer Lake. Surveys made for the commission showed that the connection could be made by means of track between Roswell and Pike View, 8,556 feet long, with a gradient 1.24 per cent. This, the commission holds, would not necessitate the cutting down of any trains or additional use of pushers.

Space is given in the report to the

FIFTEEN BIDS ON NEW H. S. BUILDING

Ten General and Five Special Referred to Architect for Tabulation

The board of education last night opened bids for the construction of the new buildings that are to be erected at the High school in the near future. There were 10 general bids and five bids on the plumbing, heating and ventilating. It was impossible for the board to tabulate the bids or to give out any figures last night. The bids were returned to the architects, MacLaren & Thomas, for tabulation, and probably will be brought before the board again at a meeting Tuesday night. The contract may possibly be awarded at that time.

A number of the local bidders attended the meeting of the board last night. The names of the bidders are:

General bids—J. D. Campbell, J. B. Harmer, J. W. Atkinson, Honeyman & Auld, Frank Kirchoff, T. J. Wright, Joseph Dozier, Frazier & Richardson, Carter & Young, and Seerie Bros.

Plumbing, heating and ventilating system—Lewis & Kitchen, N. W. Hass & Co., McCarthy & Crandall, J. C. St. John Plumbing & Heating company, and Barnes & Stephens.

The estimates are in the neighborhood of $80,000.

STORM LEAVES PATH DEAD AND INJURED IN ITS WAKE

Sweeps a Wide Area From Texas to New York; Followed by Tornadoes and Sudden Drop in Temperature

More than 60 persons are reported killed and hundreds were injured, some mortally, by a storm of tornado intensity which raged over central, western, southern and parts of eastern states yesterday. Property damage will run well into the millions.

Definite information has been received accounting for more than 40 persons dead, with reports from points temporarily cut off from wire communication by the storm adding hourly to the list.

Reports from Alabama show the loss of life was heaviest in that state, the number of dead there being already definitely placed at 28 with additional fatalities reported, but not confirmed. The town of Lower Peach Tree was practically wiped out. Two are dead in Indiana, two in Tennessee, three in Ohio, two in New York, one in Michigan, and two in Louisiana.

Accompanying the death list are estimates of injured totalling more than a hundred with additions coming in at brief intervals.

Coming up out of the southwest, just as spring was ushered in, the storm swept with startling suddenness diagonally across the country from northern Texas to western Pennsylvania and New York, bisecting the Mississippi valley and moving northward across the Ohio into the Great Lakes region.

Shifting winds of great violence, accompanied in various sections by snow, sleet and hail, characterized the storm, easily the most destructive of the year, and rarely equaled in the extent of its scope and damage.

Great Loss Life and Property.

Buildings toppled before the blow in nearly a dozen states and death lay in its wake.

The property loss was great all along the storm's track. Besides demolishing or unroofing buildings and trees, the wind, rain, hail and sleet did serious damage to crops, according to reports. Estimates of damage to property from Indiana and Michigan alone aggregated $2,000,000, about evenly divided. Early reports of loss ranging from $250,000 to $800,000 or more from sections of the storm region indicated that the total would reach large figures.

Wires fell in all directions. Not in many years has there been such a prostration of telegraph and telephone service. Chicago was cut off for hours from communication with points east. By devious routes connection was finally established. Railroad traffic was seriously delayed in many districts where wire communication was crippled and washouts occurred.

The wind which wiped out so much property and cost so many lives, attained record velocity at some points. At Detroit it reached 88 miles an hour, a new high record in that city; 84 miles at Toledo, 88 miles at Buffalo, Memphis, 64 miles, and Louisville, 52 miles.

Cold weather is trailing the destructive blow. The storm seems to have spent its force and to be taking the accustomed route of such disturbances out the St. Lawrence valley.

Chicago Cut Off by Storm.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Spring arrived in the central west today on the wings of the most destructive storm of the year. Snow, sleet and gales of wind brought the telephone and telegraph poles to the ground, wrecked buildings and sunk vessels on the lakes. The toll of death will be large, as storm conditions were general all through the central and southern states.

"Worse than the storm of Washington's birthday," was the expression of the wire chief of the Western Union Telegraph company. His opinion was reechoed by Postal Telegraph chiefs and those of the American Telegraph and Telephone company. More poles

AUSTRO-MONTENEGRIN BREACH IS IMMINENT

Former Sends Veiled Ultimatum and Mobilization of Fleet Begun

LONDON, March 21.—The relations of Austria and Montenegro have become acute, even to the point of breaking as a result of the curt reply of King Nicholas of Montenegro to Austria's note concerning Scutari, in which he expresses regret for any injury done the civil population of Scutari, but refuses to concede Vienna's demand that civilians be allowed to leave the besieged city or to permit an Austrian official to participate in the inquiry into the alleged murder of the priest Palze, the forcible conversion of Catholics and interference with the Austrian steamer Skodra.

Austria already has decided to send Montenegro a more urgent note which really will be a thinly veiled ultimatum and if this does not have the desired effect, to issue a formal ultimatum which will be backed up by the Austrian fleet now off the coast of Albania.

Russia, with which country Austria is reported to have reached a complete agreement, it is argued, will urge Montenegro to show a more conciliatory spirit, but the previous Russian efforts in this direction were fruitless

ROBINSON'S DIVORCE BILL IS KILLED BECAUSE OF PERSONAL ANIMOSITIES

Senate and House Pass Several Measures on Third Reading After Committee Work

By R. M. McCLINTOCK.

DENVER, March 21.—Both senate and house spent the entire morning today considering bills on third reading. Each house passed half a dozen measures. Those in the senate were mostly economy bills, which had been approved on second reading in committee of the whole at last night's session. They will have right of way in the house, as they have had in the senate, and it is expected that by the first of April the whole batch will have gone through.

The list of bills approved on third reading in the senate was as follows:

S. B. 496, by the finance committee, requiring a biennial budget by the heads of all state institutions.

S. B. 504, by the finance committee, requiring daily payment of funds to the state treasurer.

S. B. 502, by the finance committee, fixing office hours for all stat departments.

S. B. 499, by the finance committee, providing for the custody of the public funds.

H. B. 255, by Skinner, Simpson and Hicks, transferring the funds in the internal improvement fund to the state road fund.

Insurance Bill Re-referred.

In the house the first bill on the calendar, the Philp insurance bill, was re-referred to the committee of the whole. Five other bills on the calendar for third reading, however, were adopted. They were:

H. B. 306, by Wright, providing for the sale of session laws.

H. B. 309, by Cunningham and Thomas, forbidding fraternities in the public schools.

H. B. 611, by P. B. Gates and Ardourel, to force the attendance of witnesses.

H. B. 147, by Mitchell, permitting the use of coloring matter in oleomargarine.

H. B. 301, by Wright, for the compilation and distribution of the constitutions of the United States and the state of Colorado.

There were four or five votes against the antifraternity bill, and Mrs. Riddle, who led the fight against 147, on the ground that it would injure the dairy business of the state, mustered 11 votes against it.

Robinson's Divorce Bill Dead.

Senator W. C. Robinson's divorce bill is dead. He was unable to secure a senator who would move a reconsideration, for the purpose of getting another vote on it.

There are two reasons for the killing of this bill, which was admitted by all to be a most excellent measure, and against which no argument whatever was made. One is, that Senator Robinson did not align himself with the

MAY CHANGE PLANS OF PEARL HARBOR DOCKS

WASHINGTON, March 21.—As the result of conferences between Rear Admiral Stanford, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, and S. G. Hindes, president of the San Francisco Bridge company, contractor for the construction of the great Pearl Harbor dry dock, a complete change of the plan of work is to be made, if Secretary Daniels approves.

The recent accident to the great dock demonstrated the impracticability of laying the concrete flooring through pipes from the surface of the water. It is now contemplated to pave the bottom of the dock with great monoliths of concrete, some of them weighing as much as 150 tons each. These blocks are to be united into one great monolith by filling the interstices with liquid cement.

CLAYTON AND LUEGER NOW IN FIRST PLACE

MINNEAPOLIS, March 21.—Henry Clayton and Martin Lueger of St. Paul rolled into first place in the doubles at the International Bowling tournament here this afternoon, by making a total score of 1,215. The previous score was 1,181, made by Stash and Reimer of Minneapolis.

GRAND JURY WILL TAKE UP EATON MURDER CASE

ROCKLAND, Mass., March 21.—The conversation between Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton and his family physician, Dr. Joseph Frame, a few hours before the admiral died, will have an important bearing, it is understood, in the further investigation into the cause of the admiral's death.

Mrs. Eaton is accused of having administered arsenic to the admiral on March 7. On the afternoon of that day Dr. Frame, who had been called to attend Mrs. Eaton's mother, also examined the admiral.

The latter died during the night.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., March 21.—The grand jury will convene next Monday to consider the case of Mrs. Joseph G. Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Eaton. From her room in the county jail, Mrs. Eaton sent a cheerful message this morning to her daughter, Miss Dorothy Ainsworth.

"I want to tell you all not to worry about me," she wrote. "It will come out all right in a few days. Look after mother and don't allow her to become excited."

Mrs. Eaton had learned that her mother, Mrs. George Harrison, who is ill at the Eaton home in Norwell, was suffering intensely because of the shock of her daughter's arrest.

The widow herself appeared optimistic today and accustomed herself to the routine of jail life without complaint.

M'COURT BEATS MOORE

PITTSBURG, March 21.—Charles McCourt of Pittsburg tonight defeated John Moore of Kansas City, 50 to 33, in a national three-cushion billiard league game. McCourt had a high run of five and Moore three. The game went 66 innings.

NEW YORK FACING SERIOUS ICE FAMINE

NEW YORK, March 21.—New York city is facing the worst ice famine in 10 years, in the opinion of Wesley M. Oler, president of the Knickerbocker Ice company. With the first day of spring the harvesting season ended today.

There is a total of 1,161,000 tons on hand for the summer, said Mr. Oler. Last year the consumption in New York city alone was 2,200,000 tons.

PRESIDENT BONILLA OF HONDURAS DIES

WASHINGTON, March 21.—President Manuel Bonilla of Honduras died at Tegucigalpa today of kidney trouble, according to a private telegram received here late today.

Francisco Bertrand, vice president of Honduras, immediately succeeded to the presidency, the message said.

Dr. Bonilla has been afflicted with Bright's disease for about a year and a half. His condition gradually grew worse, and for the past few days he had several severe convulsions. It is believed his death came durfig one of these spells.

Bonilla became president on the wave of a revolution about two years ago. He was about 70 years old.

be remedied without calling a grand jury, this action will not be taken. He intimated, however, that if no improvement is apparent, he will consider the advisability of calling a special jury to make further investigation.

The Peltier woman yesterday was given five days in which to file a motion for a new trial. The offense is punishable by a fine or jail sentence, or both.

The testimony of Lon Crowe in the trial of Blanch Peltier of the Vendome, to the effect that he had entered the place during the absence of the woman, resulted yesterday in his arrest by Constable Edgar Parton, on a charge of burglary and larceny. With three other young men, Crowe was arrested in February on a charge of larceny. They were accused by Blanch Peltier of stealing articles of jewelry from her place. They were released under bond for appearance in Justice Dunnington's court next week. After Crowe had testified in court regarding his movements in the place the charge of burglary also was placed against him. He was remanded to jail in default of $1,000 bond.

Mrs. Smith was placed on trial yesterday in the district court on a charge of conducting a disorderly house at the Vendome with Blanch Peltier, who was found guilty yesterday on the same charge. A jury had not been secured when court adjourned late yesterday afternoon.

MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSES IN ENGLAND

From the London Mail.

The parks committee of the Birmingham city council is considering the establishment of a municipal golf course, the proposed site being at Castle Bromwich.

Edinburgh, with six public courses, claims to have been the pioneer of municipal golf. London has public courses; Nottingham has two courses and Manchester has had one since 1911. Sunderland and Liverpool have similar schemes under consideration. Several seaside resorts include municipal golf among their attractions. Brighton and Bournemouth are instances. Yarmouth has a scheme in hand and Southport has considered a similar proposal.

ROBINSON DIVORCE BILL

Adams-Hayden combination that organized the senate by the election of Adams as president pro tem; the other is former Senator Mark Skinner.

Senator Robinson has been an outspoken progressive in the senate. He refused to go into the deal that made Adams president pro tem. More than that, as a member of the committee on privileges and elections, he signed the report declaring that Casimero Barela holds his seat in the senate as the result of fraud. It is well understood, further, that Robinson will make one of the principal speeches next week in favor of unseating Barela. And the Adams-Hayden combine has had reason to learn Robinson's ability in debate, and to dread his caustic revelations. Hence, anything the Adams-Hayden combination can do to embarrass Robinson is gleefully done.

As to former Senator Mark Skinner, he is said to have taken his defeat for reelection very much to heart, and to have boasted that he would see to it that Robinson didn't get a bill through the senate. As clerk of the senate, Skinner is in a position to wield some influence. And he is said to have urged several senators to vote against the Robinson divorce bill.

Senator Robinson was both surprised and disappointed at the defeat of his pet measure, the more so as there had been no open opposition. But the senate's action has only made more certain the guess that the senator's speech on the Barela contest will be well worth listening to.

Ammons' Bills Opposed.

Opposition developed in the senate this morning to the passage of two of Governor Ammons' economy bills. Senator Tierney objected to the repeal of the immigration bureau bill, and forced it to a vote, but on final passage there were only two votes in favor of retaining the bureau. The opposition to Senator Morris' bill, No. 257, creating a bureau of public accounting, was based mainly on the fact that the bill ignores the civil service law, and provides that members of the bureau shall be appointed without examination. Only a few votes, however, were mustered against the bill on final passage.

A new special order calendar was adopted in the house this afternoon, devoted to Democratic platform pledges. The first bill considered under it was the teachers' minimum wage bill. Speaker Skinner offered an amendment, doing away with the county boards of education provided by the bill, and leaving it with the superintendent of schools to administer the funds. The bill provides a minimum wage of $50 per month, and in districts where a 10-mill tax will not raise sufficient to pay this minimum, the districts to draw on the state school fund. As amended the bill passed second reading in committee of the whole.

It was announced today that the supreme court would not answer until Monday the request contained in Senator Cornforth's joint memorial, asking whether a majority or a two-thirds vote would be necessary to remove Teller county from the Fourth judicial district.

As soon as senate bill 11, by Williams, was called up in the house committee of the whole this afternoon a fight upon it was begun by representatives from the mining and smelting counties. The bill is an amendment to the constitution, providing that mines and smelters shall be public utilities. Ashton of Pueblo moved that the enacting clause be stricken, and was supported by Lewis of Teller, Philbin of Chaffee and others. The Ashton motion carried and the bill was killed.

At noon the senate went into executive session, to receive the following appointments from Governor Ammons as trustees of the Greeley state normal school: William Price Dunlavy of Trinidad, Mrs. Roseta Pulford of Durango, Henry P. Steele of Denver.

SUFFRAGISTS TO SWOOP DOWN ON CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Petticoated "messengers from home" in the shape of suffragists will descend upon congress when it reconvenes April 7. One delegate from each congressional district will march in the procession on that day from a mass meeting in a downtown theater to the Capitol, each delegate to buttonhole her own particular representative and insist upon his influence toward getting the ballot for women. The senate also will be invaded.

"For the Doll," is the name of a society, composed of women, which was organized in Germany last year to "discourage the displacement of the doll in favor of the plush bears, cats and dogs."

UNION STATION

opinion of Charles Mulford Robinsen, a civic expert, who has spent much time studying conditions in Colorado Springs. Quoting from this report, made to the city, the commision says:

"The railroad situation is obviously difficult and serious. A glance at the map shows how the city is encircled by railroads. To this picture, in order to fully appreciate it, there must be added knowledge of three facts:

"First—That Colorado Springs is not a manufacturing or even a trading town, such as normally prosper by a multiplication of railroad facilities.

"Second—That its most lucrative products are a mountain view and a condition of atmosphere especially beneficial to lung affections; and,

"Third—That the railroads locally burn soft coal, of which the smoke is injurious to the view and fills the air with dirt.

Why Present Line Offensive.

"With these facts in mind it will be realized that the railroad situation is one of peculiar disadvantage as far as the city is concerned—even though no account be taken of economic loss in the depreciation in value of a needless amount of property, the hampering of a natural residential expansion, etc. The special offenders are the lines which run north and south—the one route lying in the Monument valley, while the other, through most of its course, parallels the Shooks run valley. The latter offends especially, because it cuts off the gradual rising lands to the east, with their superb panoramic views and special adaptability for residential development; but the former cuts off the western side of the city, greatly injures the mountain view which is seen by tourists, and unites with the other road in throwing clouds of smoke over the city's most expensive residential section.

"That of the two routes, this, which lies on the east side of the city, is the more important to eliminate, is a conclusion which the city planner must readily reach. With the city covering only its present area, that road crosses 40 streets—nearly all at grade; it hampers the city's growth in the direction most natural and favorable for growth; and it thrusts its way through the high-class residential district north from Caramillo street with a closer insistence than does the Rio Grande—which is kept at arm's length by the park."

Smoke Eliminated Soon.

The commision points out, however, that the objection to smoke from trains running over the western tracks will be eliminated with the electrification of the roads between Denver and Pueblo, and this change in motive power by the Denver & Rio Grande at least, it is believed, will be effected within the next year or two.

In referring to improvements to be made in the Shooks run district, in event the union depot prospect is carried out, the report outlines plans for beautifying that section of the city, advocates the enlargement of the sewer system and various improvement sthat would make it one of the most desirable parts of the city.

Space also is given to press comments on the work of the union depot commission, which were uniformly favorable, and there are several sketches showing the approaches to the proposed new terminal and the avenues leading to it.

Reference is made to the meeting here January 23 of railroad officials and members of the commission, at which the railroads named a committee to investigate the matter and to make a complete report of its findings to the commission. J. B. Berry of the Rock Island lines is chairman of this committee, and the members of the union depot commission are Edgar T. Ensign, chairman; William K. Argo, Leonard E. Curtis, Grant C. Hemenway, Joseph H. Schisler and Mark A. Skinner.

The report also includes resolutions of respect to the late B. G. Robbins, who was a member of the commission.

Worth Weight in Gold

Abingdon, Va.—Mrs. Jennie McCall, of this place, says, "I had been troubled with female complaints, for over ten years. I could not walk or stand on my feet, and had been almost confined to the house, for a long time. I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and now I can walk anywhere I want to go. Cardui is worth its weight in gold." This is a high estimate on a plain, herb medicine, yet there are thousands of women who would gladly pay this price for a remedy to relieve their suffering. Cardui has helped others. Why not you? Try it. Your druggist sells it, in $1 bottles. Adv.

Eastern Bad Man May Invade State

DENVER, March 21.—This city is expecting invasion by a small, bold, bad man from President Wilson's home state. Notice of his evident purpose arrived by post in the shape of a letter today addressed to "Mr. Ranchman, Denver, Colo." It read:

Dear Sir—I would like to know how much you charge for a horse. (A medium sized horse that is black and has a black face); a saddle (a good strong leather saddle); a pair of spurs. A cowboy's pair of sheep hair pants. A handkerchief and a cap and a bridle. Please let me know by return mail. Please write your name plainly. I want a nice gentle horse. One that doesn't kick or bite and one that doesn't start off until he is told to go, and one that is used to noise.

"You will find an envelope already addressed and a stamp on it to send it with. Write as soon as you receive this.

Please oblige,

WILL START WORK SOON ON AUTO ROAD TO CAMP

The proposed road to Cripple Creek, following the line of the old Cripple Creek stage road, will be built soon, if plans of the United States forest service are carried out. The service is getting rights-of-way in order to [illegible] the whole road in shape. It applied to the council yesterday [illegible] a right-of-way over [illegible] of land owned by the city, and obtained an authorization for the mayor and city clerk to draw up the necessary papers.

The old stage road runs along and over Cheyenne mountain. It is at present practically impassable in many places. As soon as the necessary preliminary work can be completed, the task of putting the road in first-class shape will be begun. It will be made easily available for automobile traffic.

REWARD IS OFFERED FOR ARREST FAKE SOLICTIORS

Acting for the protection of honest solicitors for publishing companies, whose business, he says, has been almost ruined because of the numerous swindles perpetrated lately by fake solicitors, who have been taking orders with cash payments for magazines, promising later delivery, which has not been made, B. M. Bertram, a representative of the Periodical Protective association of New York city, is in Colorado and is offering a reward of $100 for every conviction of a fraudulent solicitor for any periodical. He has issued warning that the swindlers as a rule show no credentials and are provided only with blank receipts, but that bona fide solicitors carry credentials, printed in regular forms and signed and sealed, and that they also have regular forms of receipts, with the name of the firm they represent printed on them.

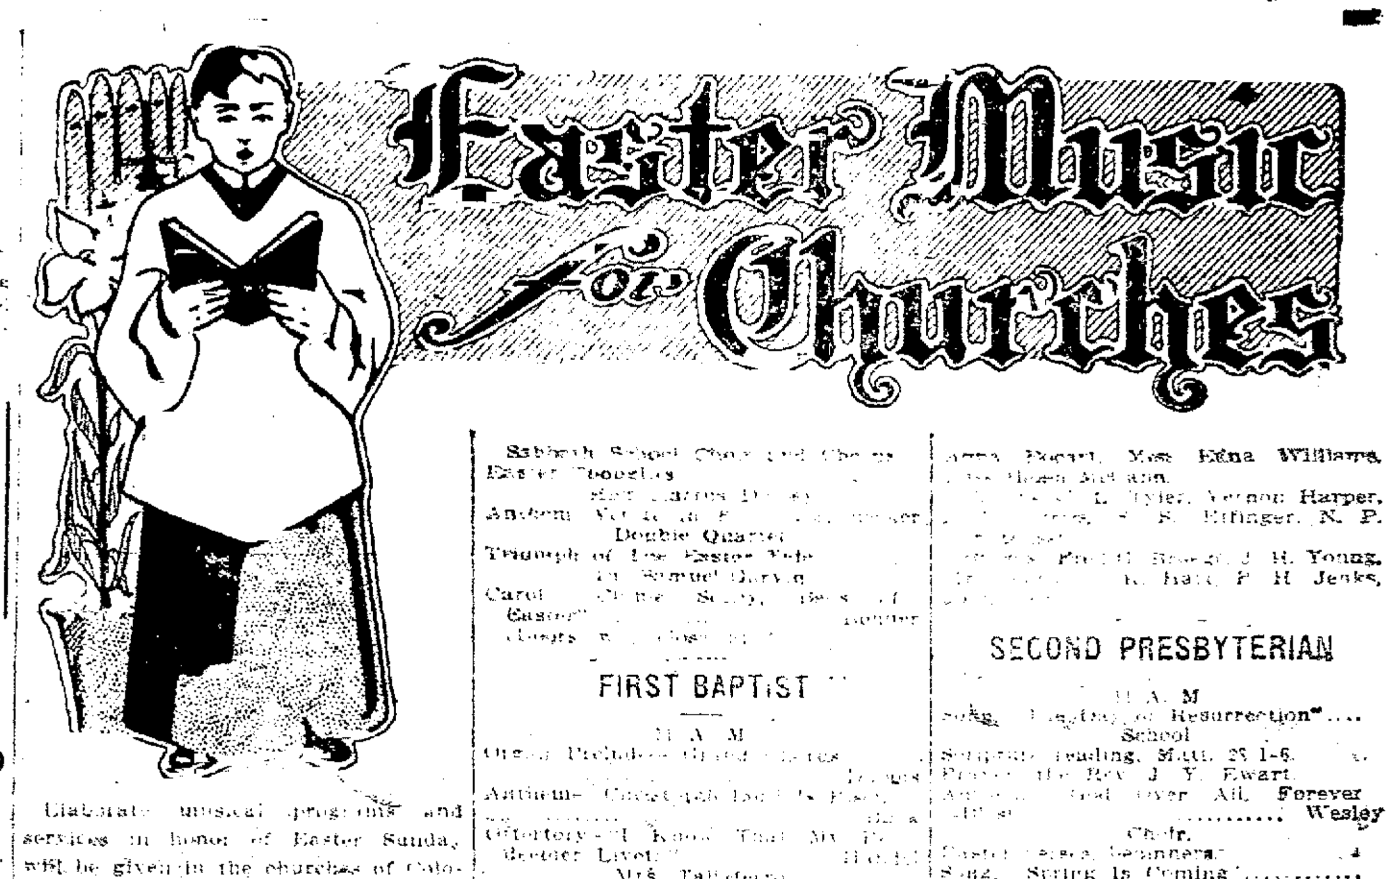

There has been some little trouble in Colorado Springs lately from fake solicitors, many of them representing that they were students working their way through Colorado college.

In Seville, the chief seaport of Southern Spain, flour costs nearly $10 a barrel at retail, in small quantities, but oranges less than a cent apiece. Ham averages about 40 cents a pound and sugar 9 cents.

STRIPED SILK IN COMBINATION WITH BLUE CORDUROY

Old blue corduroy was used for the jaunty coat-suit shown in today's drawing. This was cut in the prevailing cut-a-way style, closing with two buttons and having wide revers of a much lighter shade of silk striped in the shade of the gown. The sleeves were long and moderately close-fitting with deep turn-back cuffs of the striped silk ornamented with buttons. The silk was also effectively introduced on the skirt which consisted of a long tunic of the corduroy hung over an underskirt of the striped silk. The tunic closed on the left where it was turned back in wide revers and faced with the silk and held in place with buttons.

Elaborate musical programs and services in honor of Easter Sunday will be given in the churches of Colorado Springs tomorrow. Among the programs announced are the following:

in regard to Dr. Friedmann's treatment."

It was further stated by government officials that it would be a month and probably more before any conclusions could be reached relating to the efficacy of the treatment upon the patients who are being watched by the board of officers authorized to make the investigation.

Dr. John F. Anderson and Dr. A. M. Stimson, who compose the board, are keeping a daily clinical record of cases treated by Dr. Friedmann in the New York hospitals. These records will furnish the basis for final reports when sufficient information has accumulated to warrant them.

Developments Observed.

Though developments from day to day, such as lowering of temperature, disappearance of night sweats, cessation of coughing and the like, might mean something of importance in one case, in others it would not. For this reason, the public health officials regard it dangerous to make any report whatever until they are ready to report finally. They also point out that it is necessary to keep a record in many cases, as two or three cases would not be sufficient on which to base a just report as to the efficacy of the treatment.

Thus far Dr. Friedmann's tuberculosis culture has been demonstrated to be a "live bug" according to tests made in the government hygienic laboratory here, subcultures having been grown from the original culture submitted to the public health service by the Berlin doctor several weeks ago.

The tests conducted by Dr. Anderson proved that the new bacilli would propagate from the prime culture and experiments have been begun with warm-blooded laboratory animals. The subcultures also have proved to be acid-proof and they have been propagated on various chemical media, such as beef bouillon, gelatin, bread and other subjects. Enough of the bacilli has been developed for the carrying out through monkeys and guinea pigs of further tests of the antitubercular which Dr. Friedmann claims to have derived from sea turtles.

Treats Sixteen Patients.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Sufferers from tuberculosis whom Dr. F. F. Friedmann treated with his vaccine before his departure from Berlin to this country, are responding remarkably to the treatment, according to a cablegram received today by Dr. George O'Hanlon, superintendent of Bellevue hospital. The cablegram came from a Berlin physician, Dr. O'Hanlon said.

Dr. Friedmann treated 16 patients here today, but was obliged to postpone the treatment of 14 others until tomorrow, owing to the fact that his vaccine was exhausted. He devoted most of the day to the preparation of a new supply.

CONEOS OFFICIALS MUST PRODUCE COUNTY BOOKS

ALAMOSA, March 21.—Papers have been served upon County Clerk Macon and County Treasurer Kendel to appear tomorrow morning in Denver with all their books and vouchers as requested by State Treasurer Kenehan. County Attorney Green, it is said, advised them not to remove the records out of the county unless by order of court. County and state auditors are now examining the books. The state auditors complain that the county auditors hamper their work.

AUSTRO-MONTENEGRIN

and it is feared King Nicholas, who believes his crown depends upon capture of Scutari, will remain stubborn.

Austria Mobilizes Fleet.

Austria has notified the powers that her fleet has gone to Albania coast because of the position of the Catholics to whom Austria is the protector and has sent to Cettinje her minister, Baron de Geisel, who will impress on Montenegro the determination of Austria that Scutari shall remain Albanian and that Austria's other demands must be complied with. Servia, which realizes the fruitlessness of the continued siege at Scutari, is understood to acquiesce in this.

In fact, all the allies, except Montenegro, which is preparing a general storming attack on Scutari, anxiously are awaiting an excuse to end the war.

King Nicholas, however, is said to have declared:

"Either I shall return to Cettinje, the conqueror of Scutari, or not at all."

Servians Massacre Albanians.

LONDON, March 21.—A dispatch from Vienna says: The telegrams received here from Cattero and Cettinje show that unrestrained savagery and barbarism continue in Albania and that the Montenegrins still perpetrate inhuman atrocities. In the village of Schasschare, near Ukkup, "Servian soldiers have committed indescribable cruelties on the women and the boys and men have ben sent away. Similar crimes have been committed by Servian soldiers at Detnica, which, like Schasschare, is inhabited solely by Albanian Catholics.

In Karasagh, 290 farm houses were burned by Mohammedan Albanians and all the males who did not flee were shot by soldiers. In all 238 men were slain without mercy.

CLOSED SEASON ON DEER UNTIL 1918 IS PROPOSED

DENVER, March 21.—A closed season on deer until 1918 is the most sweeping change in the game laws under the Norvell bill passed by the legislature and now ready for Governor Ammons' action. After 1918 there will be an open season on deer from October 1 to 6.

The closed season on mountain sheep and antelope is continued until September 25, 1924, and on elk until November 1, 1924.

Open seasons are established as follows:

Prairie chickens, mountain and willow grouse, August 15 to October 15; sage chickens, August 1 to September 1; closed season on pheasants and other grouse not indigenous to Colorado extended from 1915 to 1924.

Changes in other seasons are:

Open season on ducks, geese, brants, swans, cranes, plovers and other wading marsh and shore birds from September 1 to April 20 the year following; open season on curlew and yellow legged snipe, August 1 to April 20; open on doves, August 15 to September 30.

Closed season on quail to October 1, 1924.

The trout season is fixed from May 25 to October 31 in altitudes of less than 7,500 feet and from May 1 to October 31 in higher altitudes.

3,000 Persons Fight for Admission to Robbed Pawnshop

NEW YORK, March 21.—Three thousand persons, many of whom had been there since daylight, fought to gain entrance to the pawnbroker shop of Martin Simons & Son today when the doors, which had been closed since the shop was robbed of $250,000 worth of property last Sunday, were opened to admit holders of pawn tickets. The store was kept open until 4 o'clock when only 200 ticket holders had been able to gain admittance. About three-quarters of them recovered their property. The rest found that their valuables were among the stolen loot. Some of them, including several women with babies in their arms, came out weeping.

CLAYTON WILL

clared that, whether a legislative investigation of the insurance commissioner's office is held or not, he will continue his investigation. Also, he is declared to have announced his unalterable opposition to the Philp bill in its present shape, and to have insisted that there must be reform in the handling of insurance funds, in that balances must be turned over daily to the state treasurer.

To emphasize his point, Kenehan announced that, at the present time, Clayton is short $2,500 in his cash. November 30, 1911, Clayton deposited $5,000 of the department's funds in the Severance State bank. That bank failed last year, but the directors were able to pay all depositors. It is supposed, of course, that the state was also paid. The bank formally closed January 1, 1913, all depositors having been paid. Yet it was not until March 15, 1913, according to Clayton's books, that this $5,000 from the Severance bank was transferred to the Hamilton National bank of this city. The inference is that, in the meantime, Clayton had been using the money. At least, there has been no explanation for the delay in transfer.

Discrepancies Noted.

And, at that, Clayton seems actually to have deposited with the Hamilton bank only $2,500 of the $5,000. March 17, 1913, Clayton's books showed a deposit for the insurance department of $64,168.07. He gave a check for $45,073.18 to Treasurer Leddy, to cover the protest checks he had been holding during the litigation over the present insurance law, leaving in the bank a cash balance of $19,094.89. Yet Clayton's own books, which show the transfer of $5,000 from the Severance bank to the Hamilton bank, call for cash on hand of $21,594.89.

It was to take action on the situation thus presented that Ammons called last night's conference. What has been done was not divulged. Ammons, however, is said to have come to the conclusion that Clayton must go. Indeed, it is being said by some today that Ammons never did promise to reappoint Clayton. The latter was merely being used as the "goat," it is said. His influence was being used to secure the passage of the Philp bill, with its provisions favoring the governor's and the other Colorado companies, but he would not have been reappointed under the new law.

Whatever may have been the conclusion of those at the conference, it is certain that some of those who attended it came away determined to fight the Philp bill. That measure was on third reading in the house this morning. As soon as the title was read, Persons (Progressive, El Paso) moved to strike out the enacting clause, and this motion was seconded by Ardourel (Democrat, Boulder), who had attended last night's conference.

Will Be Reconsidered.

At the request of Wright (Democrat, Denver), Persons withdrew his motion, and Wright substituted one recommitting the Philp bill to the committee of the whole, which will reopen consideration of it Monday. Wright's motion having prevailed by practically a unanimous vote, Wright made an exhaustive attack on the bill in ots present form.

"It would never have passed in committee of the whole in its present form if the members had known what the bill contains," he said. "I do not object to the fact that this bill discriminates in favor of the home companies, but I do object to the effort to amend our excellent 1907 law, which has been copied in eight states, by enacting an entirely new law, retaining nine-tenths of the old law. And most of the features that are new in this bill no one understands, except possibly the men who drew the bill."

He attacked specifically that feature of the Philp bill which prohibits over-insurance, and which provides that, after a fire, if there has been over-insurance, the whole amount of the policies must be paid to the state, which, after indemnifying the assured for his entire loss, retains the balance for the insurance fund.

Overinsurance Feature.

"In the first place," said Wright, "every merchant is overinsured at times. The value of his stock on hand fluctuates, and he cannot, day by day, change his insurance to meet these fluctuations, as new goods come in and are sold. Furthermore, there is no provision in the bill allowing insurance companies to indemnify losses. If an insured person, carrying $100,000, were damaged $100 by fire, so far as the wording of the bill goes, if it were shown he were slightly overinsured, the entire $100,000 would have to be paid over to the state, which, after indemnifying the assured, would pocket the remainder.

"Then, why repeal the civil service law for this one office? And why give the commissioner power over the moral character of every agent in the state? And why the provision that the commissioner may appoint 'any competent person' to go to any foreign land, to examine a foreign company? Doesn't this give the commissioner the power to send his friends off on a junketing trip? And why should the commissioner have such despotic power over the employes of his department? I can see why such provisions are in the law from other standpoints, but not from the standpoint of the best interests of the people of the state."

Persons also spoke against the bill, commending the position taken by Wright. "We have a good insurance bill now," he said. "Why not amend it, instead of drawing an entirely new bill? This measure, further, is needlessly complicated—unless there is some design behind the bill. Then, too, if we are going to amend the civil service law, let's come out in the open and do it, in a general bill, instead of sticking a dagger into it every time we pass a bill applying to an appointment."

Philp, the sponsor for the bill in the house, made but a weak defense of his much-criticised progeny, and there was but little opposition to recommitting it to the committee of the whole.

GONZALES VICTIM OF "FUGITIVE LAW"

EL PASO, Tex., March 21.—That Abraham Gonzales, elected governor of Chihuahua under the Madero government, was killed by the notorious "fugitive law," is the current story verified today. Members of the firing squad which made the virtual execution, arrived at Juarez to relate how the Chihuahua governor met his death a fortnight ago.

While being transported from Chihuahua City, his former state capital, to Mexico City, where he was to have stood trial for an alleged revolutionary plot, Gonzales was executed before arrival at Torreon.

At Jiminez the ex-governor was separated from six other prisoners and alone in a single car drawn by an engine was hurried south. At a quiet place north of Torreon he was removed from the car and shot, say the men, who admit being present.

Gonzales had been missing since his removal from Chihuahua nearly three weeks ago. He was one of the most prominent promoters of the Madero revolution. Gonzales was well known among American cattlemen before the revolution, being a cattle broker of Chihuahua City. He was educated at Notre Dame university, South Bend, Indiana.

His execution has been rumored for some time, but not until today were there any proofs presented by his friends.

STEAMBOAT MAN DIES FROM WORRY OVER WIFE

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, March 21.—Word was received here tonight of the death at Los Angeles of Clyde Williams, as the result of worry over his wife's disappearance.

A few weeks ago Williams went to Los Angeles and wrote his wife here that he had decided to purchase a business there and instructed her to sell out their effects and follow him. According to relatives here, she obeyed, but, on reaching Denver, changed her mind. About the same time Williams telegraphed their relatives at Steamboat Springs about her and was informed she had declined to join him, and had disappeared. Tonight word was received that his body was on its way here. The wife could not be located.

"MAYOR" GRIFFIN DEAD

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 21.—William Griffin, for many years proprietor of a gambling resort here and well known throughout the northwest, died of apoplexy today while being removed to a sanatorium. Mr. Griffin was 55 years old and came here from New York in 1880.

COL. J. B. WHEELER TO GIVE ADDRESS TOMORROW

"Unwritten History of the Civil and Spanish Wars" and his own personal experiences in civil life will be discussed in an address at All Souls Unitarian church tomorrow evening by Col. Jerome B. Wheeler, a prominent citizen of Manitou, and a colonel in the Sixth New York cavalry in the Civil war. Members of the G. A. R. and of other patriotic orders have been invited to attend.

Colonel Wheeler enlisted in the Sixth New York cavalry as a private on his twentieth birthday, September 3, 1861. He was in active service until September 5, 1865, and reached his rank of colonel through a series of rapid promotions. From 1866 to 1889 he was engaged in mercantile life in New York city, coming to the Pikes Peak region after that time. He is one of the most interesting men in the legion, and is well known all over this section of the state.

He is a member of the Loyal Legion, which is made up of those who were officers either of the army or of the navy during the Civil war. His membership is with the New York chapter.

70 DIE A MINUTE
36,792,000 A YEAR
This Mortality Can Be Reduced at Least One-Half. Most Ailments Are Caused from Constipation and Debilitated Stomachs.

The Christian Herald recently published the astounding statistics that 36,792,000 die every year. A large percentage die from preventable diseases. I want to impress upon the medical profession and upon every man, woman and child, whether they are sick or well, that constipation and weakened stomachs are the cause of kidney ailments, liver ailments, rheumatism and nearly all blood diseases.

Physicians are learning that when you keep the stomach sweet, the bowels clean and active, the liver and kidneys will perform their functions and will make good rich blood and nourish all parts of the body. That is why I am giving so much attention to my Paw Paw Laxative Pills. They do energize the stomach so that it can digest and get all the nutriment from foods. They do carry off the bile from the liver and keep the bowels as clean as any other part of the body. They do it without griping, without purging and without debilitating. Don't be stuck on your doctor. Don't be stuck on old-fashioned medicine. BE PROGRESSIVE. Don't use a tallow candle when you can have an electric light. Get the best of everything. You are entitled to it.

I want every person who has a sour stomach, who has distress after eating, who belches up gas, who is weak and nervous, who cannot sleep, and particularly those who are constipated to get a bottle of my Paw Paw Laxative Pills from their nearest drug store. Take one or two at night. You cannot have headaches if you take these Pills. You cannot have dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness, because these little peacemakers take out of the stomach all of the waste matter just as soon as the stomach has extracted the nourishment that is in the food. Get a bottle. Try them. If you are not satisfied, I will return your money.

CAST ANNOUNCED FOR 'ISLE OF KAL-TO-KEE'

First Production of Jeancon's Play at Burns Next Week by Local Lodge Elks

The cast for the first presentation of the musical comedy, "The Isle of Kal-to-Kee," which is to be given at The Burns theater next Thursday and Friday evenings, was announced yesterday. It includes many of the finest voices in Colorado Springs, and was selected with especial care, as the production is an ambitious one, and will be staged in an elaborate manner. Rehearsals have been held for some time, under the direction of J. Allard Jeancon, the author and composer of the piece.

The proceeds of the performances will go to the cemetery fund of the Colorado Springs lodge of Elks. The committee of Elks having the production in charge, of which Charles Deacon is chairman, has been working hard to make "The Isle of Kal-to-Kee" the biggest of the long list of notable successes staged by the order in this city. The other members of the committee are Glen H. Logan, Walter W. Udick, Lloyd R. Allen and E. D. Woodworth.

The members of the cast, in the order of their appearance, are as follows:

'CASCARETS" FOR A SICK, SOUR STOMACH.

Gently but thoroughly cleanse and regulate your Stomach, Liver and Bowels while you sleep.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases, that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets: they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too. Adv.

BOOSTERS OPPOSED TO TRANSFER TELLER COUNTY

Resolutions opposing the removal of Teller county from the Fourth judicial district have been adopted by the Colorado Springs Boosters association. The resolutions recite that it is the belief of the association both that the bill for this purpose was instigated by certain politicians for their own interests and that it is against the interests of a large majority of the taxpayers in El Paso and Teller counties and without their approval. The resolutions request the representatives of El Paso county in the legislature to fight the bill.

WILL BEAR WEIGHT 30 MEN ON HIS SHOULDERS

"Texas," a strong man from the south, is to give several exhibitions of his strength at the Odeon theater today beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The feat chosen for today is to teeter 30 men seated on a long board balanced on his neck and shoulders. In this "human derrick" act "Texas" uses a plank 30 feet long, 14 inches wide and three inches thick. The act will be given several times during the afternoon and evening, during the intermissions between moving pictures. All the carriers on the two local papers are to be admitted free during the afternoon.

Pimples Source of Great Danger
May be Means of Absorbing Disease Germs in Most Unexpected Manner.

The research laboratory of The Swift Specific Co. has collected a vast amount of information regarding the spread of blood diseases. In thousands of instances the most virulent types have been the result of coming in contact with disease germs in public places, and the apparently insignificant pimple has been the cause. It is reads with astonishing rapidity, often infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope quickly and thoroughly with such a condition, and thanks to the energy of its producers the famous S. S. S. may not be had at almost any drug store in the civilized world.

This preparation stands alone among specific remedies as a blood purifier. It is somewhat revolutionary in its composition, since it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paresis, neuritis and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than from disease germs direct. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 137 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

Get a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. to-day of your druggist. It will surprise you with its wonderful action in the blood.

M'KESSON WILL CONTINUE AS CITY ATTORNEY, SINCE RESIGNATION NOT ACCEPTED

The city council yesterday declined to accept the resignation of C. L. McKesson as city attorney, the commissioners declaring that his services are indispensable to the city at this time when important litigation with which he is familiar is about to come up. Judge McKesson will continue to serve as city attorney to the end of the present administration. Mayor Avery voted with the rest of the council against the acceptance of McKesson's resignation.

The resignation of the city attorney was presented just before the close of the meeting. He then left the room, declaring that he did not consider it proper for him to be present while proceedings concerning himself were in progress. In his resignation Mr. McKesson offered to give all assistance possible to his successor.

When Mayor Avery entered the field for mayor against Mr. McKesson after assuring him that he would not run, McKesson announced that it would not be possible for him to be associated any longer with Avery in municipal business, and that he would tender his resignation as city attorney as soon as possible without conflicting with the interests of the city. Mr. McKesson did not resign immediately on account of the then pending hearing of the suit of the city against the Hydro-Electric company in the supreme court.

AL. G. FIELD MAY BUY SUMMER HOME IN CITY

Al. G. Field, the dean of minstrelsy, who has owned and starred in his organization of entertainers for 27 years, may buy a summer home here in the near future.

Mr. Field said last evening while dining in his private car:

"I have liked Colorado Springs for many years, but have never had the pleasure of being here during the summer months. We always lay off here with the boys the last three days of holy week, opening in Denver on the following Sunday. Say, you ought to hear the bunch boost for the Springs during the long winter tour. They all look forward to this week and are having the time of their lives sightseeing. Yes, I am thinking of buying a summer bungalow here for my family, who live in Columbus, O. My daughter spent a few weeks here last year. She is pulling mighty hard for the bungalow, and it looks as if she will succeed."

The Field minstrels will be seen at the Opera house today, matinee and evening.

INDORSES FRIEDMANN

A personal indorsement of the Friedmann remedy for tuberculosis was received here yesterday by David R. Miller, a printer, and a patient at the Modern Woodmen sanatorium, from Dr. Otto Carl Stutz of Upper Sandusky, O.

Dr. Stutz was Mr. Miller's physician before the latter came to Colorado Springs, and also was a sufferer from tuberculosis. In a letter to Mr. Miller he declares that he believes he has been cured by the Friedmann treatment, and that in his opinion the remedy is all right if the cases are not too far advanced. It is said that Dr. Stutz will secure a quantity of the serum and treat tubercular patients at Upper Sandusky.

CLIMB PEAK WITHOUT THE USE OF SNOWSHOES

Fred and Edward Morath, sons of F. A. Morath of the Morath Investment company, yesterday ascended the summit of Pikes Peak without snowshoes. They are the second party to accomplish the feat this year, the first, however, using snowshoes. It took the two boys five hours to reach the top. The snow is about 15 feet deep near the summit, but they were able to walk on the crust. Several pictures were taken from the tower on the summit house. The return trip was made in three hours.

FIREMEN APPOINTED

Mayor Avery yesterday appointed Samuel H. Frame and Oscar J. Ainsler substitute firemen to serve 60 days, and appointed J. E. Kenney a permanent member of the force, on recommendation of Commissioner Himebaugh. Kenney has been in the department for nearly a year but the formality of his appointment had been overlooked.

CHAMBER COMMERCE WILL LOOK INTO PLAN TO HOLD AVIATION RACE

The letter sent by the Denver men back of the plan to have an interurban aviation race during the Knights Templar conclave there this summer was received by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. Secretary Henderson replied that local people are interested in the proposed race and that he will bring the matter before the advertising committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The letter was as follows:

Letter of Denver Men.

Denver, Colo., March 20, 1913.
Chamber of Commerce, Colorado Springs, Colo.:

Gentlemen—A movement has been launched by the newspapers and prominent men in this city to organize a 150 or 200-mile aviation race from Denver to some point outside and return. The pick of American aviators and machines will participate in this event, and possibly a representative or two from France and England. The race will take place during the week of the Knights Templar conclave, which will be held in this city during the month of August next, and will be advertised extensively all over this country and Europe in connection with the conclave.

Among several courses and circuits which have been mapped out, the course Denver-Colorado Springs has been proposed. What would it be worth to Colorado Springs to have this race take place over the Denver-Colorado Springs course, and how much money could be subscribed among the merchants and people of Colorado Springs? This event will involve the expenditure of from $7,000 to $10,000, and the Denver people do not feel that they should stand for all the expense, inasmuch as the town at the turning point of the race will receive just as much press notice and advertising as Denver. For this reason, the towns on the different courses have been sent a letter similar to this and have been asked to contribute to the prize fund. The financial result of this canvass will practically determine the selection of the course.

Like the great French aviation events such as the Paris-Madrid and Paris-Rome races which thrilled Europe for the last two years, this race, too, while on a slightly smaller scale, will create a proportionate amount of interest, and will be the means of getting the names of these two Colorado cities before American and European tourists in such a manner and to such an extent as could be accomplished by no other means. The rules of the contest will compel all aviators to descend at the town where the turning point will be located and remain on the ground for a specified time, thereby giving the large crowds which will be attracted to the place an opportunity of seeing the machines as they approach in the air and of examining them after they have alighted. This race could easily be made a feature of the Colorado Springs carnival.

As no definite arrangements can be made until the course is decided on, you are respectfully requested to take this matter up with the various commercial organizations, newspapers and business houses in your city and mail us your report as soon as possible.

Thanking you in advance for immediate action, we are, very truly yours,
COMMITTEE ON AVIATION.
Joe Murray, acting secretary, care Denver Republican.

A COLD, LA GRIPPE, THEN PNEUMONIA
Is too often the fatal sequence. La Grippe coughs hang on, weaken the system, and lower the vital resistance. R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J., says: "I was troubled with a severe La Grippe cough and was completely exhausted after each fit of violent coughing. Before I had taken one-half of a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, the coughing spells had entirely ceased. I wish to say it can't be beat. All others are imitations." Robinson Drug Co. Adv.

WILL ISSUE 100,000 FOLDERS BOOSTING REGION

The contract for the printing of 100,000 copies of a 24-page folder boosting the Pikes Peak region has been awarded by the Chamber of Commerce to the Prompt Printery. It is for $1,800, and is the largest individual contract ever given by the local commercial body. It was awarded after consideration of several bids. The folders are to be in two colors, and will be issued and distributed within the next two months.

Weak, Cold Spells

Wilmington, N. C.—Mrs. Cora L. Ritter, of this place, says: "I used to have headaches, and blind dizzy spells, and weak cold spells went all over me. I had different doctors, but they were unable to tell me what was wrong, so I began to take Cardui. I am now all right, in good health, and better than I have been for 10 years." Cardui is a remedy for women, which has been helping sick women for nearly a lifetime. You can absolutely rely upon it. Other people have done the testing, and you should profit by their experience. Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you? Begin taking Cardui today. Adv.

HOLDING INQUEST INTO DEATH ALFRED BLALOCK

Mystery surrounding the death of Alfred Blalock from injuries sustained by a fall from a Denver & Rio Grande train near Fountain, deepened yesterday at the inquest held in the court house under direction of Coroner Lawrence Beyle and the district attorney's office. The inquest was adjourned late yesterday afternoon for further investigation.

Whether Blalock was the victim of murder or of an accident is the problem confronting the authorities. Without regaining consciousness long enough to explain how he was injured, Blalock died Tuesday at St. Francis hospital. He was found in a cattle guard on the tracks, and physicians who attended him agree that he was not run over by a train.

A strange feature of the mystery is the apparent indifference with which Blalock's three companions, one of them his cousin, are said to have regarded his disappearance from the train. He was traveling with them from Cornelia, Ga., to Caldwell, Ida. When informed at Pueblo that Blalock had been injured, it is said that they stated that the authorities would look after him. They continued their journey without further inquiry, it is declared.

No motive for murder has yet been revealed, nor is there any evidence that would establish the fatality as due to an accident. Members of the train crew testified yesterday that they observed Blalock was restless and that he frequently walked through the aisles and went out on the platform of the car. The train was solid vestibuled with a gate at the rear end.

It is said that two of the passengers who at first claimed they did not witness the accident, have since stated that they saw Blalock fall from the train. These witnesses are in Salida and will be called to testify at the inquest.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF MOON

There was a total eclipse of the moon during the early hours of this (Saturday) morning. The eclipse began shortly after 3 o'clock and became total shortly after 4 o'clock. Colorado Springs is one of the points farthest to the east where the eclipse became total before the moon set.

Today is unique for its combination of weather-making influences. This is the time of the equinox, the moon becomes full today, and there was a total eclipse of the moon this morning.

STUDENTS SNOWBOUND

Nine engineering students at Colorado college, accompanied by Prof. George E. Martin of the engineering department of the institution, who went up Pikes Peak Wednesday for a study of the water system, are at Seven Lakes, where they are held back from reaching reservir No. 2 by the heavy snowdrifts. They experienced great difficulty because of the snow in getting from Lake Moraine to Seven Lakes. They may return to Colorado Springs this afternoon.

COLORADO SPRINGS IS GOOD ENOUGH FOR HIM

California climate has been unpleasant lately, and that of Colorado Springs is far ahead of anything to be found in the coast state, in the opinion of Dr. B. P. Anderson of this city, who has returned from an extended visit on the coast. He adds that he heard one California booster discount the effects of the freeze this winter by saying that it killed all the bugs and flies with which the state has been troubled and that they will have a fine crop of fruit this year.

Death and Funerals

STRICKEN ILL ON EVE OF WEDDING; DIES HERE

Robert Anderson, aged 23 years, of Lafayette, Ky., died early yesterday morning at 130 North Seventh street, where he had made his home for the last two months. Short funeral services were held at 11 o'clock from the undertaking rooms of Fairleys & Law, and the body was taken to Lafayette for burial.

Anderson was suddenly stricken with tuberculosis two months ago when he was preparing to marry. He was brought here in an effort to save his life, but grew steadily weaker. His financee, Miss Ruth Bourse, and his sister and brother-in-law accompanied him to this city.

Mrs. Walter M. Wilson of 1112 Palmer Park boulevard died at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at her home. The body will be taken to the home of her parents in Chicago for burial. Mrs. Wilson is survived by her husband, an expert accountant.

Mrs. Elizabeth Woodward, aged 97 years, who lived in Colorado City many years ago, died Wednesday at he Old Ladies home in Denver. A good deal of mystery attached to Mrs. Woodward's later years, in that some unknown person in Colorado Springs or Colorado City, it is said, sent her money regularly for years in order to make her life comfortable. Mrs. Woodward had been separated from her four children for a long time, and they and her grandchildren, if any, have not been found. It is regarded as improbable that they sent her the money.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM Baking Powder

Purity in food, lower cost of living these are the demands of the day.

Pure food is health, and health is economy itself. We cannot have health without healthful food.

The most healthful foods are the quickly raised flour foods biscuit, cake, muffins, crusts and other pastry, when perfectly made from wholesome ingredients.

Dr. PRICE'S baking powder makes these foods in specially attractive, appetizing and wholesome form, and for both economic and hygienic reasons, such food should be more largely substituted for meat in the daily diet.

But bear in mind that alum, or unwholesome baking powder, can never make pure, wholesome food.

Former Local Man Is Feared to Have Committed Suicide

Whether Clyde Albin, formerly of Colorado Springs, and brother of Carl Albin, former alderman and Democratic politician of this city, was the man who committed suicide in a lonely cabin near Los Angeles, is a mystery that the Los Angeles and Denver police are trying to solve. Several years ago Clyde Albin conducted a meat business here with Carl, who now is clerk in the office of the secretary of state.

Albin's wife, who lives in Denver with their two children, says she received a letter from her husband Thursday, and that she is sure he is still alive. The dead man was found February 28, in Temescal canon. Indications were that he had shot himself through the heart. All means of identification had been destroyed.

Albin's wife and brother say that the description of the dead man does not at all agree with the description of Clyde Albin.

The Los Angeles authorities obtained no clew to his identity until a Mrs. Grear, a waitress, told Sheriff W. A. Hammel of Los Angeles that a man who gave the name or "Alvin" met her on the streets of Los Angeles in the early part of February and told her he was going into the mountains to commit suicide. He said he had had trouble with his wife, who, with the two children, lived in Denver, and wanted to end his life for this reason.

The Los Angeles police say Mrs. Grear has partially identified the body.

The Denver authorities point out that the Alvin whom Mrs. Grear speaks of tallies in many respects to Clyde Albin of Denver. Because of trouble with his wife, say the police, he left for Los Angeles last October. That trouble, says his wife, had not yet been patched up. Albin was a city meat inspector in Denver.

APACHE INDIANS TO BE RETURNED TO N. M.

War Department Has Ordered Their Removal to Old Reservation

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 21.—By order of Secretary of War Garrison and Secretary of the Interior Lane, 200 members of the remnant band of Apache Indians, held prisoners for many years at Fort Sill, Okla., will leave there Tuesday, March 25, for New Mexico. The Indians will travel aboard a special train and be taken direct to the Mescalero-Apache Indian reservation in Otero county, where they will be given their liberty. The transfer of these Indians back to New Mexico was protested against by the recent legislature, which addressed a memorial to congress, and by United States Senators Fall and Catron and Congressman Fergusson, but to no avail.

The Indians are part of the bloodthirsty band which, headed by Chief Geronimo, now dead, murdered and pillaged ranches in southern New Mexico some years ago, and for almost two years terrorized that section of the state, finally being rounded up by General Nelson A. Miles at the head of a force of regular cavalry. Feeling against the return of the Indians is bitter, but no trouble is expected unless the Indians should leave the reservation.

STORM LEAVES

are down than in any storm of recent years, and several days probably will elapse before wire conditions will approximate normal conditions.

Throughout the day there were practically no Western Union wires working out of Chicago. The same was true of the Postal company, but strenuous work managed to get several wires of each company working at intervals by nightfall.

Linemen Begin Repairs.

Gangs of fur-clad trouble men, with spare wire and emergency outfits are out on all the roads hitching lines to trees, splicing wires, sorting out the ice-crusted tangles of fallen lines and doing all that is possible to get enough wires in commission to carry the pressing commercial and news dispatches. No close approximation of the financial damage caused to telegraph companies by this storm could be made tonight. Thousands of poles are down and miles of lines are in ruins.

Train service in to this city was delayed in all directions.

In Chicago many trolley lines were tied up by fallen power wires or by poles falling across the street. During the worst of the storm street traffic was suspended.

Half a dozen persons were reported severely injured as a direct result of the blizzard. Some of them will die.

Suffering among the poor is extreme.

Indiana Tornado-Swept.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 21. — A storm of tornado proportions reached Indiana early today and did damage estimated at a million dollars. Late reports from over the state increased the loss, but the death list remained at two, although several persons were reported fatally injured.

The dead are:

OMER A. VICE, car driver, Frankfort; crushed by falling roof.

HENRY W. WALTERS, Lafayette; killed by falling sign.

Walters was on an errand for his sick wife when killed.

Among the seriously injured:

Eva Miller, Terre Haute, struck on head by falling brick while asleep in bed.

Mrs. M. Clark, Indianapolis, injured internally when small building fell on her.

Bettie Hill, negress, Indianapolis, skull fractured by falling sign.

Patrolman Robenovitz, Indianapolis, struck on head by brick.

The wire service of the state was demoralized, and many places were entirely without communication. Trees blown across the trolley wires delayed the interurban cars and washouts on the steam lines in the southern part of the state made travel uncertain.

A cold wave, following the storm, adde to the suffering, as many homes had been unroofed and windows broken. A drop of 30 degrees, bringing the temperature down to about 20 above zero, was predicted for the state.

South Hard Hit.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 21.—Reports coming into the centers of population from outlying sections by crippled telegraph and telephone wires and by couriers tonight indicate that the death list as a result of last night's storm will be about 50. Many sections known to have suffered, have not been heard from.

Alabama was the worst sufferer, 27 persons having been killed when the town of Lower Peach Tree was wiped out. Three deaths have been reported in Tennessee, but not confirmed; five lost their lives in Mississippi; two in Louisiana, and one in Texas. In Mississippi today the government was authorized to borrow $5,000 for the relief of sufferers from a storm that devastated a part of the state only 10 days ago.

First reports of storm damage came from northern Louisiana and Mississippi last night about three hours before winter officially ended at 12:30 o'clock this morning. The storm quickly spread over a wide area demoralizing wire communication. Parts of the south soon were cut off and for a time all wire communication south of Louisville was suspended. Little progress was made by the telegraph and telephone companies until about noon today when an intermittent service was established between the principal cities. Between Nashville and Chattanooga 94 poles of the telegraph company were blown down and three miles of its wires destroyed.

Today's reports bear testimony as to the various forms of the storms. Usually it was electrical and accompanied by high winds which at Louisville for a moment reached a maximum of 75 miles an hour. Texas experienced a tornado and elsewhere deluging rains generally accompanied the hurricane. In the course of the storm were many places which had not recovered from the similar upheaval of 10 days ago.

Hundreds of persons whose homes were unroofed or otherwise made uninhabitable throughout the storm area, feel keenly the added discomfort caused by a sharp drop in temperature, which, in some places was as much as 30 degrees.

Railroads Crippled.

JOLIET, Ill., March 21.—This city was cut off from the world for seven hours during today's storm. The Alton and Santa Fe roads have many miles of wire and poles down. Stoppage of business cost, it is estimated, more than $200,000.

Million Loss in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., March 21.—Three persons known to be dead, a score missing and unaccounted for, several score injured and property damage estimated at considerable in excess of $1,000,000, is a summary of the damage by the storm today.

In Tiffin and Seneca counties the property damage is expected to reach a half million dollars and there the loss of life is believed to have been great.

William Wicks, aged 75, was killed when the smokestack at the county infirmary fell. In Columbus, Richard Plimmer, contractor, was killed when the walls of a brick building in which he was working was blown down, burying him and three workmen.

Nicholas Boyer, a painter in Cleveland, was killed when he was blown from a scaffold. Great havoc was wrought in the oil fields. In the vicinity of Marietta many derricks were lifted up by the wind and hurled a great distance.

Michigan in Path of Storm.

DETROIT, March 21.—A terrific windstorm at times reaching a velocity of 88 miles an hour, the highest point ever attained in this city during any five-minute period in the history of the local weather bureau, swept Detroit and practically all of Michigan today, leaving death and great property damage in its wake. It was estimated that the property damage would reach nearly a million dollars.

Tonight one death had been due to the storm, but the local hospital reported many seriously injured and meager reports from out in the state brought in the same details. Wire traffic was completely demoralized and the telephone and telegraph companies said that it would be many hours before their lines could be restored. In many sections, miles of telegraph and telephone poles were down. The wind struck the city about 8 in the morning.

By noon every policeman on the local force had been ordered on duty until further notice and every precaution was being taken to prevent possible loss of life.

The streets down town were swept with cyclonic force. Women were thrown to the streets, buildings unroofed and all frail structures practically demolished. Flying debris injured many persons.

NASHVILLE, March 21.—Reports say sections of Marshall county between Chappel hill and Cornersville, suffered more severely than in that of a week ago.

The dead:

FRANK WALKER.

MRS. HOWELL CARUTHERS.

CHARLES CULLOM.

Mrs. Neil McDaniel was probably fatally hurt.

MOBILE, March 21.—A special to the Register from Fulton, Ala., says that 29 persons are known to have been killed at Lower Peach Tree, Ala., by a cyclone which struck that place this morning. Many more were hurt and the property damage is large. Fifty were injured at Fulton.

BOISE, Ida., March 21.—P. Endicott, a rural mail carrier between Atlanta and Twin Springs, Idaho, was killed today when he was caught beneath a snowslide several miles from Atlanta. The body was recovered tonight.

The snow between Atlanta and Twin Springs has been so deep this winter that the carriers have been forced to abandon their carts and cover their routes on snow shoes.

KANSAS CITY, March 21.—Snow and sleet and a drop in temperature were general over the Missouri valley and the southwest last night and early today. In some sections the storm was accompanied by a strong wind.

Heavy rains preceded snow in south and east Missouri. At Oklahoma City, the wind rose to 46 miles an hour. The mercury this morning dropped to 13 here, 8 in Omaha, 12 in St. Joseph, 10 at Wichita and Concordia, Kan., 22 at Springfield, Mo., 16 at Oklahoma City, 2 at Denver and 10 at Amarillo, Texas.

Kentucky Heavily Swept.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 21.—First reports from points in the central south was that that section was swept by a terrific wind storm last night and early today. Considerable property damages is reported, but loss of life is not mentioned. Wires are down throughout Kentucky and much of Tennessee. A 60-mile wind blew at Nashville.

Death at Shreveport, La.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 21.—One man was killed, several persons were injured and heavy property damage was done at Saline, Louisiana, a town of about 300 inhabitants in Bienville parish, by last night's severe wind storm, according to a report received here today.

Several houses were blown down in Gibbsland, a town in Bienville parish, and several thousand dollars' property damage was done. The house of Joe Randall in Gibbsland was blown from its foundation, carried through the air several hundred yards and deposited outside the town. Awnings and signs in the town were torn down and telegraph and telephone wires were prostrated.

Several Negroes Killed.

MERIDAN, Miss., March 21.—Several negroes are reported killed and a number of cabins demolished as the result of heavy wind storms which struck a small settlement last night, five miles north of Macon, Miss. It is feared that severe damage was wrought by the storm in the northern part of the state but communication with this section is impossible on account of the demoralized condition of telegraph and telephone wires.

These are the members of the Illinois committee on "White Slavery," who have obtained important testimony relating to the wages paid working girls, and what it costs the girls to live. Reading from left to right the men are: F. J. Tossey, Senator Edmund Beall, Lieutenant-Governor O'Hara, chairman of the committee; M. Blair Coban, investigator, and Senator Nells Juul.

MISS HELEN M. NEWSOME.

Plans are being hurried for the wedding of Miss Helen M. Newsome and Karl H. Behr, the noted tennis player, both well known in New York society. The couple plighted their troth while being tossed about in the raging ice-choked sea in one of the Titanic lifeboats after Mr. Behr had pulled his sweetheart from the water.

Refuses to Pay Fine Out of Inheritance, But Will Beat Up Cop for Arrest

PUEBLO, March 21.—Serving out his fine of $25 which he was ordered to pay upon conviction of vagrancy in the local police court, John Crahy today received word that he has inherited $12,000 from his father's estate.

"Pay my fine, well I guess not," declared the prisoner upon being informed of his patrimony.

"When I get out of here I will the executor or administrator to send me on a few hundred dollar bills. Then I'm going to beat a certain cop now on this force if I have to spend all of that money to pay the fine afterwards."

Crahy's father was a Chicago marble dealer.

SYLVIA PANKHURST WINS OU BY HUNGER STRIKE

LONDON, March 21.—Sylvia Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, today won her liberty from Holloway prison by a "hunger strike." Further confinement would have endangered her life. Miss Pankhurst, daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militants, was sentenced February 18 to two months' imprisonment for engaging in a window-smashing campaign. She went on a hunger strike, and the authorities pried open her mouth with a steel gag and fed her through a tube.

RAILROAD STRIKE IS INDEFINITELY DELAYED

CHICAGO, March 21.—Calling of a strike recently authorized by a vote of 5,000 switchmen on 19 railroads entering Chicago has been delayed indefinitely. Federal arbitration was announced today after a meeting of the committees representing the men and roads.

Judge M. A. Knapp, presiding judge of the commerce court, and G. W. W. Hanger, acting commissioner of labor, have been asked to come to Chicago to pass upon the dispute.

Will Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont's $30,000 Japanese teahouse, which she is to erect at Newport, make the habit of afternoon tea popular in this country? In England, even business men knock off work about 4 p. m., and take their tea and wafers. A cup of tea at 4 o'clock flavored with some good conversation is a humanizing influence in every day.

INCOME TAX AND TARIFF KEEP DEMOCRATS BUSY

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Chairman Underwood of the house ways and means committee, Representative Hull of Tennessee, author of the proposed income tax plan, and Representative Peters of Massachusetts, worked all day today on the details of the custom house machinery in the administrative sections of the Democratic tariff revision bill, and on the income tax features. The discussions was continued at a conference tonight.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH OUR COURTS?

George W. Alger, in the Atlantic.

Twenty-five to 50 years ago there were time-honored phrases which were applied by lawyers with more or less popular approval to the American judiciary. The courts were the "Palladium of our liberties," the "Guardians of the Ark of the Covenant." Today the public attitude has largely changed. These phrases are no longer current. The people are dissatisfied with the guardians, and in some quarters there is dissatisfaction with the ark itself. The popular magazines are full of articles upon judicial aggression, judicial oligarchies, and the lucubrations of ingenious laymen, who, unconstrained by any embarrassment through knowledge of law or of the functions or powers of the judiciary, cheerfully lay at the doors of the courts all the ills of our body politic. The legislatures and constitutional conventions are debating proposals for the recall of judges, and the bar associations are adding to the general confusion by sweepingly denouncing, as demagogic attacks upon the courts, all proposals of change except certain excellent, though tardy, measures of procedure-reform emanating from themselves. The platform of one political party advocates a simplification of the method of impeachment. Between indiscriminate attack and unreasoning defense, the courts suffer both from their enemies, and, if possible, still more from their friends; and sober-minded citizens are left without light or leading.

CANDLES USED AS A CLOCK

From the Indianapolis News.

Various expedients for measuring time were in use before the invention of clocks. Alfred the Great caused six tapers to be made for his daily use. Each taper was 12 inches long and of proportionate diameter. The whole length was divided into 12 parts of one inch each, of which three would burn for one hour, so that each taper should be consumed in four hours. The six tapers, lighted one after the other, lasted 24 hours.

A GRAND JURY NEEDED

THE revelations in the second day's proceedings in the District Court against keepers of disorderly houses further confirm what had already been shown as to corruption in the Police Department. There is no longer a mere suspicion that the Department needs overhauling. Enough facts of vital importance are known to make a thorough investigation imperative.

But will an investigation by the council suffice, however painstaking and honest it may be? If some of the charges made against certain policemen are true mere dismissal from the force would be scarcely more effective as a punishment than a slap on the wrist. It is not at all improbable that evidence will be adduced to justify criminal prosecution.

For example, what was the motive of the detective and policemen who are charged with protecting the habitues of disorderly houses, even to the extent of intimidating witnesses against them? It has not been shown that the officers were actually paid for this service, but it is a safe assumption that an officer who is despicable enough to do such things is also crooked enough to accept a bribe for doing them.

This and much other important information bearing on the condition of the Police Department could be learned by a Grand Jury. District Attorney Purcell and Assistant District Attorney Burns are displaying an admirable spirit and accomplishing a valuable work. They appear to be intent on getting at the bottom of the case, and their efforts will have the approval and encouragement of every right-thinking citizen. But it is altogether probable that an even more thorough investigation could be made by a Grand Jury than by the District Attorney's office, and it is to be hoped that one will be called.

"A MERE POLITICAL PLAY"

MAYOR AVERY and Commissioner Himebaugh are reported to be "greatly surprised" by recent disclosures anent the Police Department. Incidentally, however, they are said to suspect that the proceedings in the District Court are "a mere political play."

Of course. Did an incompetent public official ever find himself confronted with convincing evidence of his own maladministration without falling back on this time-worn and puerile counter-charge? It is perfectly natural for Mr. Avery to wish critics of his administration to overlook his little peccadilloes, at least until after the election. And in his present mood it is natural for him to assume that any effort to fix a part of the responsibility on him is "a mere political play."

But in this case the only political play is the Mayor's evident desire to shield himself by making this charge. It is plain to everybody that at least part of the responsibility for conditions, good or bad, in any department of the City government rests on him, for he is the head of the government and is endowed by the Charter with almost autocratic authority.

If the situation were reversed and the Police Department were in such splendid condition as to attract attention because of its high efficiency, would Mr. Avery disclaim a share of the credit therefor? On the contrary, he would boast everlastingly of the superior virtues of "my" Police Department. And by the same token it is now up to him to shoulder his share of the blame for its contemptible vileness, and to do it without sidestepping.

MORE SIMPLIFIED SPELLING

WHEN Mr. Carnegie's Simplified Spelling Board a few years ago published its first list of 300 words with simplified spellings a lot of people who didn't know better derived endless amusement from a perusal of the list. It happened that in that case most of the words were not newly "simplified"; the Board had merely selected simpler forms which were already in common usage, as, for instance, "maneuver" instead of "manoeuvre." President Roosevelt immediately adopted the list and ordered that it be used in the Government printing office, but Congress dissented and instructed the public printer to retain the old forms in congressional documents. So, for the sake of uniformity, Mr. Roosevelt rescinded his order.

Since then the Simplified Spelling Board has issued several other lists, the fourth and latest of which is just out. The work of the philologists who compose the Board has carried them farther afield than would have been suspected by an examination of the comparatively slight changes made in the words included in their first list. Thus, in the list just issued, we find such striking examples as folloing, publisht, alredy, speld, prefered, thruout, cald, wer, practis, extensiv, hav, orthografic, wel, spred, alfabet, formd, shal, ar, wil, executiv, definit, determind, od, catalog, serius, fysicians, dout, themselvs, givs, previus, varius, digrafs, anomalus, alterd, caracteristic, filologic, ful, clas, enterd, anser, frend, morgage, yoman, obviusly, paragrafs.

Of course these spellings will be hailed with joyous ridicule, and almost nobody will adopt them. But after all, this is merely because they are new and have an unfamiliar appearance to the eye, which makes them seem grotesque. But let none of the would-be funny critics of simplified spelling be too sure of his ground. The reform is coming, because it is based on sound commonsense, and ridicule can only delay it.

There was a time when fish was variously spelled fysshe, fisshe, ffysshe, and in two or three other ways. In Shakespeare's time people wrote batte, sette, dimme, summe, trewe, civill and fatall, instead of bat, set, dim, sum, true, civil and fatal. As recently as a hundred years ago our ancestors spelled public with a final k. But little by little the superfluous letters have been dropped, and the present work of the Simplified Spelling Board is merely an effort to hasten the work of elimination.

FRIEDMANN AND THE DOCTORS

THE ethics of the medical profession sometimes assume a fearful and wonderful phase. For instance: Dr. J. M. Baldy, president of the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Examiners, says that no temporary medical license will be granted by the state of Pennsylvania to Dr. Friedmann, the German physician who is in this country to demonstrate his alleged cure for tuberculosis. "We do not object to his coming here as a consulting physician and demonstrating his vaccine," says Dr. Baldy. But the members of the Board "do not intend to make themselves responsible for Dr. Friedmann and his 'cure.'"

Dr. Friedmann has administered his treatment to a large number of patients both in New York and Montreal, and nobody seems to have been injured thereby. Pronounced improvement has been reported in some cases, though perhaps it is too early to judge the actual results. If it is safe to allow him to treat these patients, why not allow him to treat all comers?

OPEN PARLIAMENT

[All letters intended for the Open Parliament must bear the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith. Controversial letters will not be published without the signature of the writer. Communications for this department should be limited to 400 words and should be free from personalities.]

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

May a visitor to your beautiful city express his sentiments through your columns upon a popular question?

I heartily disapprove of woman's suffrage for many valid reasons and to me it seems the very height of folly to permit a woman to enter the political arena as a candidate for office. It is certainly a strange turn of affairs. Women are not suited for political activities. They are not equipped physically for suffrage, and the difference between the laws of this state, Colorado, in regard to women's protection and those of Massachusetts, for example, where women have no suffrage proves my assertion.

Women need many, many more laws for their proper protection, but they'll not get them under the methods adopted by suffragettes here or elsewhere. I yearn for the nice, gentle, meek ladies of the olden times of my younger days—a lady then didn't dream of competing with men and there were no such tactics as are now indulged in.

I thank you, sir, for the use of your valued space and trust that none will take offense at my well-meant remarks. OLD FASHIONED.

Colorado Springs, March 21.

FROM OTHER PENS

PATRONAGE.

From the New York Tribune.

President Wilson's plan to allow postmasters and other officials to serve out their four-year terms is in no sense revolutionary. President McKinley, and before him President Cleveland, more particularly in his second term, followed substantially the same policy. The present loyalty to it, however, in view of the natural hunger of Democrats for office after 16 continuous years in opposition, does credit to the president and bears witness to the growing strength of the idea that a political change of administration is no reason for a wholesale distribution of spoils.

Postmaster General Burleson's statement of the administration's intentions in this regard does not apply to the fourth-class postmasters classified last summer by President Taft, for they have no fixed terms. Nevertheless, it suggests a disposition to resist the demands for the revocation of Mr. Taft's order.

When thus classified these postmasters were indeed political appointments made under the system prevailing at the time. But the only way to cure the system was to "cover them in," just as the only way to resume specie payment was to resume despite the fact that some men gained unearned wealth by it. By this act the spoils door was closed, and it should be kept closed. Thus the whole post-office department will reach a new standard of efficiency.

There can be no possible reason for undoing this classification except to please job hunters for whom President Wilson is showing commendable disregard.

"NO BOYS WANTED."

From the New York Tribune.

What a flutter beyond the Styx must greet the news from the Illinois Children's home! All the girls of all the ages who were driven from unwelcome homes, left to perish on the slope of Ida or set adrift upon the Nile see their long-sought vindication and have their long-delayed revenge.

"No boys wanted," reports the superintendent of the home, which is largely active in supplying babies for adoption. Everybody who wants to adopt a baby demands a girl. Enough girls cannot be found to fill the good homes open to them, while the once lordly man child finds no takers. So little sought are the boys that the authorities are at their wits' end to know how to dispose of them.

Yet it is notorious that a girl costs more to raise than a boy. And when she is raised, she is, by universal complaint, at a disadvantage in the world's struggle. Her wages are low. Her opportunities are comparatively narrow. The suffragists insist that she is altogether downtrodden and in need of emancipation. The dice of life, they say, are loaded at every throw in favor of the boys. Still girls are preferred.

It is a far cry from the day when a son and heir was the hope of every house to this fashion of "no boys wanted." Surely no one can longer doubt that the triumph of feminism has come.

THE SEALED TERRITORY.

From the New York Sun.

A government built railroad privately operated; a privately built, privately operated railroad; a government built, government operated railroad; any of these in Alaska is to be preferred to the government decreed and government enforced stagnation that now afflicts the abused territory.

If anything could be more offensive to common sense than the opportunities for fraud that have been encouraged in the settlement of some of our territories, it would be the ridiculous policy that for years has denied to Alaska the benefits of development.

THINGS

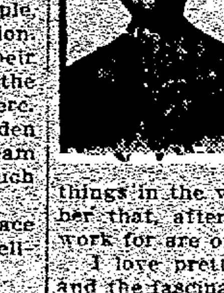

By RUTH CAMERON.

"The world is too much with us; late and soon, Getting and spending, we lay waste our powers."
—Wordsworth.

The other night long after I should have been sound asleep I was driven from my bed to my desk by the need of trying to express a mood which took possession of me.

If you don't like moods and never have them, please turn the page and read the stocks or the fashions or anything but this.

If you do have them, perhaps you will recognize your own experience.

It was at the close of a day in which I came into possession of a beautiful piece of furniture which I had long wanted. I was in a fever of delight and excitement all day long. I had it fitted into its place in the living room; I viewed it from every angle; and then I called in the neighbors to rejoice with me, as country folks who have real neighbors always do.

I went to bed still excited and on the heights and then the reaction came. This is what I wrote:

God keep us all from getting too much wrapped up in things. God keep us from forgetting that there are other things in the world besides things. Let me remember that, after all, these objects that I strive and work for are only the husks of reality.

I love pretty gowns. I love the rich soft silks and the fascinating embroideries and priceless laces. I revel in the glorious coloring of a beautiful fabric or the fine lines of well-modeled garments. I want to own these lovely things.

I love beautiful homes, the dull richness of mahogany, the subdued silvery sheen of old rugs, the fascination of fine linen, the exquisite fragility of beautiful china start my heart strings tingling whenever I see them. I want to make my home beautiful with things like these.

But I do not want to forget in my love of these things that, after all, kindness and wisdom, fidelity to beliefs, sympathy and truth and love, motherhood and intercourse with friends are far more beautiful than these material things and more real.

There are times when the fever of possession gets into my blood; there are times when things shut out the real as the fog shuts out the ocean. And then, just when I am forgetting that there is a wonderful eternal ocean, a corner of the fog lifts and I realize again that the things we give so much of our lives for are just things.

And then again the fog comes back.

Half of us is soul and half body. We never [illegible] in danger of stifling the body, but the soul sinks all too easily into coma.

I think most of us need to pray every day—"God keep me from stifling that part of me that knows there's something besides things in the world."

Carburetors

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

A carburetor is a contrivance which is used for running a gasoline engine and smashing the third commandment.

It is more successful at the latter job than the former. There are many times when the carburetor falls down miserably on the engine running job, but it is always ready to produce at a moment's notice, enough profanity to give the recording angel writer's cramp.

As a rule, the carburetor consists of a small brass pot into which air and gasoline are sucked by the engine. The two are well mixed in the carburetor and are then inserted into the bosom of the engine and encouraged to explode by an electric spark.

This sounds as simple as getting a Progressive and a Republican to quarrel, but it is remarkable how much of a mess the carburetor can make of it. A balky horse is accommodating beside a carburetor, which refuses to carb or which persists in doing it the wrong way.

"Sullenly inactive while its owner cranks the engine 987 times."

A carburetor is as sensitive to atmospheric changes as a rheumatic toe. It will work happily and perfectly all day long with the thermometer at 90 degrees and the next morning, during a cold rainstorm, it remains sullenly inactive while its owner cranks the engine 987 times and then bites a hole in the radiator.

In winter a carburetor is as hard to wake up as a bear and no better tempered afterward. Whenever an automobile is heard limping down the street, making a sound like 14 Kilkenny cats in a sack, it is a sign that the carburetor employed on that particular job is holding a strike session and getting ready to walk out in a body.

Nobody understands carburetors, though hundreds of experts can explain them in words of eight syllables. The carburetor is not complicated, and almost anybody can take one apart. The great difficulty is to refrain from doing this with an ax.

Improved carburetors are being invented every week, but this can continue for many years with no danger of running past perfection.

SOME FIRST THINGS

From St. Nicholas.

The first perfect hinge was probably that of the oyster. The oyster has its two shells joined together by a hinge as good as any found in any hardware shop of the country.

The first pump ever invented was the heart of a man or animal, and it is today one of the most perfect pumps in use. Engineers agree that its principles of construction for the highest efficiency are correct, and that it is not surpassed by any pump invented by man. For its size and work, it is the greatest pump of the age.

The lobster's claw is said to be the original gas-fitter's pincers. There are many other pincher-carrying animals, especially the scorpions, and among these we can find nearly as great a variety [illegible] in the hardware shop.

Shears, [illegible] scissors are very similar in operation to the pincers, and we find a number of creatures carry such tools. The earwigs, for instance, carry a pair of forceps as skillfully constructed as any a dentist uses.

The power of the big pincers of a crab's or lobster's claw is well known, and some of the modern instruments used for gas-fitting are based on principles of construction somewhat similar.

IN THE EARLY DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 22, 1883.

The following were appointed as the joint advertising committee to handle the funds raised for the purpose in Colorado Springs and Manitou: Judson Bent, Matthew Kennedy, D. B. Fairley, John Hurlburt and John Rand, the two latter being Manitou men.

President Tenney was having over 500 acres of land in the north part of town plowed up.

Official notice had been issued that the auditor's office of the D. & R. G. railroad would be moved to Denver on the first of April.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 22, 1893.

The Humphrey resolution, censuring Governor Waite, was voted down, a majority of the house members being Populists.

Joseph M. Hill was exhibiting in Colorado Springs what was described as a "great novelty," an electric cook stove.

The police made two important arrests. Smith, an embezzler, wanted in Malden, Mass., was found living at the Y. M. C. A. Della Baumgartner was arrested charged with stealing from the Earle cottage, which had been left in her care.

THE HASKIN LETTER

STOPPING THE TIPPING EVIL

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

"Wanted—A rebel who will stick. Apply at once to the American people."

Such is the mental want ad of every one of the millions of Americans who find themselves enrolled by conscription in the United States army of tip payers. The rank and file has been ready to revolt for many years but the summary punishment sustained by a few brave rebels from time to time is the awful warning that keeps the great majority on the reservation. Seldom does a rebel who has been caught and punished have the backbone to take another tilt at tipping. The tipping bond slaves are crying for a sticker. A sort of superman who will boldly defy the greased palm brigadiers "if it takes all summer." The people are looking for a leader to lead them forth into the bright sunshine of the tipless day.

Popular murmurings against the tipping crime are louder than ever before. The public temper seems to be getting beyond the "be it resolved" stage. Here and there it is a trifle less easy for the honey-mugged menial to extract his time-honored perquisite from an unwilling patron. Some of the associations of drummers who, in 1911, put a ban on restaurants, hotels, barber shops, etc., which permit tipping, yea covertly insist upon it, are actually getting results in spots. There are other signs, but only an optimist ne plus ultra imagines that the tip and the hydra-headed system of evils which it spawns will be smothered in two or three years.

Reforms Come Slowly.

It took 15 years to get a constitutional amendment for an income tax. Agitation for the popular election of United States senators, still unattained, began long before that. When John Wanamaker was postmaster general in the cabinet of Benjamin Harrison, he said that only four things prevented the enactment of a parcel post law: the aforementioned quartet of obstacles being that number of express companies. The public went behind the companies and finally got a parcel post. It is now clearly understood by the people that only one thing bulwarks the tipping curse—the big hotel. Their task now is to boycott the hotel, large or small, which brazenly insists upon forcing its patrons to pay the wages of its employes through the medium of heavy tips unwillingly given.

Barring the exception that makes the rule, the American hotels have reduced the wages of waiters, bell boys, etc., to the point where they simply must be tipped to live. It is a matter of bread and butter to most of them. Therefore, the small change the American business man and traveler exudes at every pore from the moment he ventures beyond his own doorstep lines the pockets of the hotels and restaurant owner. A great deal of this illegal exchange of coin, with the servant as the middleman on small commission, represents the handsome dividend which more than one hotel writes off every year. While the hotel proprietor is not wholly to blame, he is at the bottom of this deep-seated economic sore. The only way to beat him is for the public to select the hotel which displays the "no tipping" sign and means it. If this could be done consistently in every city it would not be long before the combination in restraint of grateful tipping for real personal services duly received would be broken up.

Hotel Gives Discount.

A certain New York hotel has recently established a 10 per cent discount rule on the bills of its guests, the deduction [illegible] designed to cover the guest's tipping outlay. In likewise, [illegible] hotels will yield their old attitude of "pay to the limit or beat it." This [illegible] a big hole in the [illegible] annual. Ten per [illegible] but it [illegible]

The [illegible] when 10 per cent is acceptable to the hotel or restaurant flunkey. Nowadays a man in the east would hardly dare offer a waiter a dime after a dollar meal. It is not so bad in the west and south, except in Chicago and San Francisco. A few weeks ago a well-known Irish-American in New York city entered a famous restaurant for a luncheon with his sister. As they ate lightly the bill was a modest $1.65. Ten per cent for tips had been the Irishman's rule for years. In this instance he laid two dimes on the table for the waiter. With a snarling "bah" that pampered porkchop attache swept the money on the floor. The head waiter was called and in this particular case the man was discharged.

As a rule matters don't get that far. In the first place, only a brave man tries to get by with the customary 10 per cent that was deemed liberal a few years ago. If he does it once the lofty condescension or the pitying smile of bitter insult with which the waiter receives the pittance blisters the patron into resolving that it is even better to be robbed than to be roasted. To be strictly honest with themselves and their guests all hotels which hereafter shall feel attacks of "conscience" beneath which is concealed the good business sense that notes the gradual turning of the worm, should take off 20 instead of a teasing 10 per cent.

Aroused Public Needed.

Only an aroused public conviction of a wrong that should be righted can clip the claws of the tipping monster. It will have to grow strong enough to pull in line the spineless and the vain among its own number who cannot resist the tipping lure, then the hotel proprietors, taxicab owners, sleeping-car plutocrats and others of the same ilk who chiefly benefit by the outrage, and finally the waiters, bell boys, drivers, etc., who, when proper wages are restored to them, must resist the temptation to extort coin by the methods they now, spurred by necessity in some cases, use so mercilessly.

Tipping in this country easily amounts to $100,000,000 a year. Commercial travelers estimate that they spend fully $50,000,000. G. A. Lorenzen, a Chicago drummer who has just quit the road, has announced that in 20 years he lost $15,000 in tips. He kept accurate account of every tip, no matter how small, throughout the entire 20 years. He found that to get proper service and make the right connections with his trains it was absolutely necessary to smooth the way with gratuities. Also, he testifies, that the tips are twice today what they were 10, or even five years ago. A quarter now works hard to do the duty of the thankfully received dime of a few years back. Mr. Lorenzen says that although he was not a piker, a large percentage of drummers give up more than he did for tips.

Then there are the thousands of travelers who are not drummers. Besides the peripatetic tippers there are the hundreds of thousands who tip but do not travel: they who pay daily toll to the barber, the butcher's boy, the candlestick maker and the waiter in their own home town. No reliable statistics are at hand but it can readily be seen that $100,000,000 annually is rather under than above the amount expended in the United States to perpetuate the tipping evil.

Some States Have Antitip Laws.

A number of western legislatures have passed laws which prohibit employes from accepting tips unless consent is given by the employers. What is needed is laws forcing public places not to permit the practice in any form. Wages, of course, would go up. The public would still foot the bill but it would not be at the expense of its own sense of fair play and the self-respect of the employe. Furthermore, what the public now pays in ceaseless and constantly increasing driblets is undoubtedly more than it would ever have to pay in broad daylight. An antitipping bill now is pending before the Missouri legislature. In a plaintive interview two weeks ago, the author said that he had been a marked man ever since its introduction in nearly every hotel, restaurant and barber shop of the state capital where he needs must struggle for the necessities of life.

Today the most active agency in the antitipping crusade is the Commercial Travelers league, an organization

SPORT NEWS

International Sports to Be Held This Year

NEW YORK, March 21.—The international aspect in sports, spreading with each successive year, is unusually predominant in the tentative arrangements of the big sporting events for the summer. The program now nearly completed calls for international contests in which Americans will participate in about a dozen branches of sport.

The list ranges from chess to yachting. As friendly invaders of the American sporting arena, Chinese baseball players are coming from the orient, cricket players and tennis experts from far off Australia, golf champions and polo challengers from England, yachtsmen from Germany, athletes from Cambridge and Oxford universities and automobilists and aviators from France, as well as the usual influx of foreign competitors in minor lines of sport.

The tide of Americans to other shores is less than the incoming wave but it includes as its unusual features a proposed tour of baseball players and visits of American golfers to both England and France.

Large Variety of Events.

Dates for most of the summer sporting fixtures, both at home and abroad, have been set, and from a summary of those available here it is evident the sport loving public is to have an unusual variety of events to follow.

In yachting the Germans renew the "sonder" or special class races with the Americans, paying a visit of nearly three weeks to these shores in August. The race will be held as usual off Marblehead, Mass., the trials being set for August 16 to 23 and the finals beginning September 1. American yachtsmen are also being urgently invited to enter the international class races at Havre, France, in July.

The golfing season will see the first team match between American and French golfers near Paris in the latter part of June, following the British open tournament in which a number of Americans will also participate in Moylake, June 19 to 24. The national championships have been arranged for Brookline, Mass., (open), and for Garden City, Long Island (amateur), the latter during the week of September 1, and the former from September 18 to 20. The women's national tourney will be held at Wilmington, Del., October 15 to 18.

Tennis and Polo Men Coming.

News yesterday that the Australian candidates for Davis cup honors in tennis will come here to meet the Americans in trials, May 28 to 30, assures an interesting international contest in this sport. The national championships in tennis probably will be held at Newport, R. I., beginning August 18.

After a two-year interval the Hurlingham club is to send another polo team here in quest of the international cup, the visitors probably being here for more than a month. The tournament will be held at Meadowbrook, L. I., June 14 to 18. The national championships will be decided at Narragansett pier in August.

Several foreign automobile racers are already tentatively entered for the international 500-mile race on the Indianapolis speedway on Decoration day. The other big automobile events for the year will be held at Savannah, the Vanderbilt cup race on November 24, and the grand prize on November 27.

An event much anticipated among colege athletes will be the visit of the Oxford-Cambridge athletic team to America, probably in the latter part of June, for a meeting with the Harvard-Yale team. The usual intercollegiate championships have been set for May 30-31 at Boston, and the Pennsylvania relay carnival for Philadelphia, April 26, with an unusually large number of dual track and field meets among the college teams.

Canadian Oarsmen to Row.

Rowing has no international aspect, unless it may be the appearance of Canadian oarsmen in some events in this country. The national regatta for amateurs will be held at Boston, August 8 and 9, and the American Henley at Philadelphia probably May 31; the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie, June 21, and Harvard-Yale at New London, June 20.

An intercollegiate cable chess match has been arranged for April 12, when players from Cambridge and Oxford universities will match wits with a team to be chosen here.

Following the annual climax to the sporting season in this country which comes with the world series during the second week of October, the New York Nationals and the Chicago Americans will start on a world tour which will carry them almost to the commencement of another season at home, in actfve practice.

SPRINGS TEAMS WIN TWICE FROM PUEBLO

It took the regulation number of games at the Brunswick last night to convince those Pueblo bowlers that the local young men had serious intentions concerning the double-header intercity match, and the quintet from the city of industry hung on the heels of Mr. Boyle's perspiring athletes all the way. At the finish there were only two pins—supposedly the seven and ten—separating the winners and losers, with the Springs shooters on the long end. Score, 2,721 to 2,719. A big crowd saw the match and enthusiasm was at high pitch all the way. Litzenberg, Mershon, Calland, Harper and Wolfe were the 200 men.

Following this match, another Pueblo team, the Gold Labels, were taken into camp by the Colorado Springs Colts, the locals being 142 pins to the good when time was called. In this bout Mr. Graessle, who is becoming quite a prominent shooter, was high gun, with 224 in his first effort. Others to get the double hundred were Meikel and Pierce. Scores:

LIGHT-WEIGHT

The light-weight Franklin goes twice as far on a set of tires as the ordinary heavy car. You also get two to three times the gasoline mileage.

Weight is not essential to strength if proper design is used. Electric furnace steels and highly developed methods of heat treatment also make it possible to secure great strength from comparatively very light weight.

Light weight means greater ability, easier driving and lower cost of operation.

At the Theater

AT G. FIELD, TODAY, MATINEE AND NIGHT

Combining entertainment with instruction, the Al G. Field Greater Minstrels this season offers a replica of the great Panama canal, the most important engineering feat of the age. From photographs made by the federal government the entire scene has been fashioned exactly as the big ditch has been built.

But few have time or money to visit the isthmus to secure first hand information about the enterprise that will mark a new epoch in the world of commerce, and which is considered to be of far greater importance than was even the first railroad. Employing thousands of skilled mechanics, costing hundreds of millions of dollars, Uncle Sam has paid special attention to the relaxation afforded by unalloyed amusement in the canal zone. More than a half million people who see the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels will have a clear and graphic idea of what the canal is like and what life on the isthmus has to offer in the way of amusement. The opening of the Panama canal is shown in its entirety, and the first boat passing through the locks with the attendant celebration offers an avenue for a military and patriotic pageant that enlists the services of every member of the company.

Headed by Al. G. Field himself, the company includes a dozen shining lights in minstrelsy, while the Gold band, the latest novelty, offers two concerts every day.

Johnny Dove, who enjoys a reputation of being one of minstrelsy's up-to-date comedians, as well as a premier dancer, heads the dancers with the greater minstrels. The company of dancers appear throughout the performance in a program of the latest novelties, and in "All Hallowe'en" the "dance of the skeletons" is among the more pretentious offerings of the season.

This season's program is conceded by critics to be the masterpiece of Field's efforts, and he has put forth many notable offerings in the 27 years of his catering to the public.

The eruption of a volcano, Goblin Dell and Hades in the skit, "All Hallowe'en," and the replica of the automobile races at Ormond Beach, Florida, the stirring finale to the first part spectacle, "Minstrelsy Past and Present," are but a few of the new features that indicate the march of progress in the world of electricity.

"EXCUSE ME"

With a record of nine months at the Gaiety theater in New York, and having every feature which caused it to be hailed as the best farce theatergoers had been offered in years, "Excuse Me," the Rupert Hughes play, which has the subtitle of "A Pullman Carnival," comes to the Grand Opera house, Monday, March 24. "Excuse Me" is a Henry W. Savage offering. Mr. Savage is a producer who stands for high purpose, skillful effort and enviable accomplishment, so it is unnecessary to say more regarding the tone and class of the production than that it is typical of the Savage endeavor. As a play, "Excuse Me" has given to Rupert Hughes an eminence as a writer of farce that is shared by no contemporary playwright. It is emphatically a novelty. Throughout its action there is not one instance of mistaken identity, no male person is required to masquerade in feminine garments, and none of the other agedold and now tiresome rules for provoking laughter in this sort of play has been observed. The subtitle is aptly descriptive. Mr. Hughes has taken a score and a half persons from everyday American life, placed them aboard a Pullman sleeper on an Overland flyer bound from Chicago to the Pacific coast, and let things happen. And the things that happen, while they are perfectly logical in their origin and their sequence, keep up laughter for three acts. There are a score of contrasting types in the Pullman's passenger roster, and every one is interesting because of himself as well as because of his relation to his fellows. The action of the play is rapid and changeable. The fact that it kept New Yorkers laughing for nine consecutive months is a good argument as to its merits.

• ROSE STAHL

Anyone who has ever seen Rose Stahl, either in her present success, "Maggie Pepper," which she will present in this city at the Grand Opera house, Tuesday, March 25, "The Chorus Lady," which brought her international fame, or emotional roles on the order of "Camille," "Cora" or "Tosca," would know, without being told, that she has ideals of women, ideals of living and ideals of the stage, and while she talks most interestingly on all of them, perhaps her stage ideals have aroused the most discussion.

She believes that the style of acting always fits the cut of the cloth that is measured and designed by the dramatist, and that, be he or she ever so clever and versatile, the actor or actress is bound to characterize, subject to the limitations of the creator of the idea.

Speaking of the incessant cry of dramatic writers on the decay and decline of the drama, she said: "I do not believe that either the theater or the drama is really declining, nor that either has lost its usefulness, but I do think that in the very great majority of cases, the dramatist is responsible for the needs of the theater and is the one who is accountable for its vicissitudes.

"We have plenty of men who are able and adept in the art of play-building, but there are very few of them who have a broad and thorough understanding of life in general. Where it happens that their knowledge of the world is confined to their own horizon, it must be expected that the play will usually lack both human note and general appeal.

"The theater is waiting for the dramatist who is working in accordance with a fixed ideal, and who actually knows what he is talking about. Probably not until today and the world been ready for such a dramatist, but it is ready now. It has threshed out realism, classicism and materialism, and it is prepared to consider the last thing of all and the most enduring thing, absolute idealism."

A BIG HOUSE WILL SEE THE BEN GREET PLAYERS

Final arrangements have been made and all details have been perfected for the appearance of the Ben Greet Players at The Burns theater next Monday night. In a recent letter from the players, they speak of the great success which they have met with across the continent. After filling a number of dates in Colorado, they will continue west to the coast. They will present the delightful little play, the "Comedy of Errors," here next Monday night. This is one of Shakespeare's first productions, and its dramatic construction is faultless. All of the players who will be here Monday, have had years of experience under Ben Greet. Every part and every actor serves to make the whole a complete dramatic success.

The Greek costumes are superb, the setting is ideal, and the characters are made to blend harmoniously with each other.

This will be the closing number of the Y. M. C. A. Star course for this year. Tickets may be secured at the Y. M. C. A. today. Monday morning they may be secured at The Burns theater.

CARPENTIER MATCHED TO MEET FRANK KLAUS

PARIS, March 21.—Frank Klaus, the Pittsburg bear who recently got a foul decision over Papke, and George Carpentier, the 20-year-old Jim Corbett of France, middleweights, will fight a 20-round battle for the world's middleweight championship at the Cirque de Paris on April 17. Final arrangements were completed today. The American is a shade the favorite, though Carpentier's friends are offering even money that he will win the decision on points if the mill goes the limit.

Klaus' victory over Papke in the same ring a few weeks ago, because of Papke's continued fouling, has made Klaus the most popular foreign pugilist in France.

Carpentier was defeated in bouts with both Klaus and Papke, but it is said he has improved considerably since then.

CHICAGO, March 21.—A Yale swimmer lost to Northwestern university in their dual meet here tonight, 27 to 22. Yale won its sole victory in the relay, setting a new intercollegiate record of 1:25. CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

ELKTON MAY BUILD A LOW-GRADE MILL

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 21.—There is every probability that the Elkton Consolidated Mining and Milling company will construct a low-grade mill similar to that of the Portland company at Victor, in the near future, judging from the annual report of President E. F. Shove, who points out that there are tens of thousands of tons of low-grade ore in the property of an average higher grade than that which the Portland company is handling at a profit of $2.17 a ton with an average capacity of over 500 tons daily.

The question of building a mill has been under consideration for some time and in his report Mr. Shove merely points to the advantage such a mill would be to the Elkton mine, but makes no direct suggestions as to its construction.

THREE RICH STOPES MINED IN THE W. P. H.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 21.—During the last three days a car a day has been sent from the W. P. H. mine on Ironclad hill, which is operated by John Connors and a number of sublessees.

It is expected that about 15 cars will be shipped from this property on will be shipped from this property in March and the bulk of it is of smelting grade, mined from three new stopes which have been opened in the course of the last four or five months. There is a new stope in the shist and a new stope in the breccia, and from each place a good grade of ore is being mined.

Minto and Harshbarger, the former of Cameron and the latter of Cripple Creek, sublessees, have developed about five feet of ore between the fourth and third levels in the breccia and will be shipping within a week at the rate of a car every other day. It should settle at between three and five ounces to the ton. This is one of the richest and best strikes made in a long time in the W. P. H., and indications are that the ore will hold up as it is being developed at a rapid rate. The ore should settle at not less than $60, and from that to $100 a ton. They started in a small streak which has opened in a five-foot vein of ore.

Ward and Myers, another set of sublessees who have opened what appears to be the old Harrison and Sevier vein, have sent out about five cars this month and will ship several more. Settlements have been made at smelting rates.

NEW ORE SHOOT OPENED IN MARY M'KINNEY MINE

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 21.—One of the best ore bodies ever opened in the Cripple Creek district has been found by the Mary McKinney company in its first stope opened in the ninth level, where a vein four feet wide, averaging better than $30 to the ton, is being broken down. The stope has been opened for a distance of 100 feet. About two cars of ore a day are being shipped from this stope and the returns show an average of 1½ ounces to the ton. The drift is being pushed ahead as rapidly as possible, and in the breast is a streak 18 inches wide that runs into the pictures, the assays showing as high as 10 ounces in gold.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW

NEW YORK, March 21.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Though wholesale trade reports are inclined to manifest more or less irregularity, due principally to financial factors, retail trade has expanded in a rather noteworthy way and jobbing lines, which are somewhat quiet in the eastern and southern part of the country, maintain a satisfactory pace in most other sections.

Consumption appears to be of large proportion, and while numerous strikes are being waged throughout the country, industrial operations are such as to afford widespread employment.

Soil conditions as a whole are favorable, winter wheat prospects are good, and farmers are going forward with preparations for the ensuing season. At the moment the money situation with its effect on credit seems the main cause of complaint as regards general business for the future.

Business failures for the week ending March 20 were 251, which compares with 252 in the like week of 1912. There were 29 failures in Canada.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending March 20 aggregate 3,598,104 bu., against 3,069,074 last year.

DUN'S REVIEW

NEW YORK, March 21.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

Bank exchanges this week at all leading cities in the United States aggregate $2,873,302,658, a loss of 1.9 per cent, as compared with the same week last year. The somewhat indifferent comparison with a year ago is due to the falling off at New York city, where a loss of 3.6 per cent appears, and also to more or less contraction at Boston, Philadelphia, Louisville, New Orleans and San Francisco. The prevailing dullness in the leading speculative markets no doubt accounts for most of the decrease at New York. On the other hand, nearly all of the other cities included in the statement report showed gains.

The Haskin Letter

STOPPING THE TIPPING EVIL

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

of business traveling men. The members refuse to patronize hotels and restaurants which perpetrate tipping, and in each town or city visited they consult a list of first-class boarding houses, also hotels, if there be any, which are free of the bad habit. They look for the general public to do likewise before the millenium dawns.

The only way the tipping evil can be wiped out or even decently controlled is by a great get-together movement of the American people. No man need feel ashamed to call a mass meeting or to start a public discussion in the newspapers. He need not fear the sneers with which a few will deride his stand. He will have a great many more fellow sufferers behind him than have most of the crusaders whose convictions and courage impel them to take the lead in reform agitation.

Tomorrow—CLEAN CITY CRUSADES.

Women at the Age of Forty

Are fast approaching a time in life when they should be particularly careful about everything that relates to their health particularly their health as women.

For soon nature makes a very important change in the distinctly feminine organism. Now is the time to prepare for this change. Now is the time that the whole physical constitution should be uplifted.

Weaknesses and irregularities now neglected means serious consequences when the "change" does come.

Experience Is Only Way to Learn Art Farming, in Opinion of Farmers

WASHINGTON, March 21.—More than 40 per cent of all the farmers interviewed by government representatives believe that experience is the only way to learn how to farm. This percentage told agents recently sent out by the department of agriculture that they took no stock in farmers' institutes, demonstration agents, farm papers or department of agriculture publications as aids in helping to make the soil more productive.

Starting on motorcycles or on foot, four department agents traveled through 13 states, visiting every farmer along the way and asking questions. This inquiry revealed the fact that of the farmers who got department of agriculture bulletins 84 per cent read them and 48 per cent followed the suggestions contained therein. Of those who attended farmers institutes, it was learned that 54 per cent practiced the methods advocated there.

LEGAL NOTICES

AN ORDINANCE

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 21, 1913.

The following form of Ordinance was introduced and read at a regular meeting of the City Council, held on March 21, 1913, and was ordered published.

CHAS. CHAPMAN,
City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE

AMENDING SECTIONS 5 and 7 OF AN ORDINANCE RELATING TO POLICE DEPARTMENT RELIEF FUND.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF COLORADO SPRINGS:

Section 1. That Section 5 of an ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance Relating to Police Department Relief Fund," passed January 8th, 1913, be and the same hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Section 5. There shall be paid into said fund an assessment of seventy-five cents a month by each member of the Police Department. The Auditor shall deduct said sum from the pay due each member for the last half of each calendar month and draw a warrant for the total amount deducted in favor of the Secretary of the Board, who shall cause the Treasurer to place the total amount thus deducted each month to the credit of said fund. The warrant issued to the Secretary by the Auditor for said moneys shall be taken and considered a full receipt by each member of said Department, and neither the Auditor nor the City shall be in any manner liable to any member of said department for the said sum so deducted and transferred to the Treasurer for said fund."

Section 2. That Section 7 of said ordinance be and the same hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Section 7. MONEY DRAWN ON WARRANTS ISSUED BY AUDITOR. The Treasurer shall hold all securities and other property belonging to said fund subject only to the written order of said board as witnessed by the signature of the President thereof and attested by its Secretary. The Treasurer shall pay out the money in said fund only on warrants duly drawn by the Auditor. The Auditor shall draw warrants on said fund upon vouchers duly authenticated by the signature of the President of said board attested by the Secretary thereof. No such vouchers shall be made, or orders made on the securities and other property held by the Treasurer without a record of the same being first made in the minute book of the proceedings of the board, which shall be kept by the Secretary of said board. The Treasurer shall keep such books of account and records as the board shall prescribe. All books relating to said fund shall at all times be subject to inspection by the board or any member thereof, or other person interested. Upon removal from office the Treasurer shall deliver to his successor all moneys, securities and other property, including books and records, belonging to said fund, and said Board shall do likewise as to its successors."

Section 3. REPEAL. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with any of the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 4. This ordinance shall be published as required by the Charter and shall take effect and be in force from and after ten days after its final passage.

RAISE HEALTH STANDARD, SUGGESTION TO COUNCIL

That health conditions in Colorado Springs be raised to the highest possible standard this summer, particularly on account of the convention of the American Health association here, was the suggestion of the health committee of the Chamber of Commerce in a communication to the city council yesterday.

The committee recommended that the health department arrange to provide sputum cups at cost to all tuberculars registering at the department. Lack of funds has prevented this being done, Commissioner Frost and City Physician Gillett stated. The expenditure for the cups would come from the funds of the department, but the receipts from the sale would be turned over to the city treasurer, they explained. This difficulty can be overcome, Mayor Avery suggested, by provision for a petty cash account, which would enable the department to buy additional cups. The city attorney was directed to draw a resolution to this effect.

An amendment of the police relief fund ordinance, providing for the collection of monthly payments by the auditor, was passed on first reading and sent to the printer.

An adjourned session of the council will be held this morning at 10 o'clock to receive certification from the city clerk as to candidates at the coming election and to act on other election business which must be transacted 10 days before the election.

A MESSAGE TO RAILROAD MEN

E. S. Bacon, 11 Bath St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders everywhere: "My work as conductor caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and I was miserable and all played out. I was weak and had dizzy spells, and a friend recommended Foley Kidney Pills. From the day I began taking them I commenced to regain my strength. The inflammation is gone and I feel better now than I have in twenty years." Try them. Robinson Drug Co. Adv.

Militiamen Can Get Army Shoes at Half Price Under New Plan

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A plan whereby army shoes made under United States government inspection are afforded enlisted men of the organized militia at half price, or about $1.50 per pair already has been adopted in Maine, Michigan, Pennsylvania, California and Iowa.

Members of the state militia throughout the Union are eligible to procure their footgear on like advantageous terms.

Company commanders make the purchases direct from authorized manufacturers. The state pays $1.50 for each pair of shoes so issued and the other $1.50 is deducted from the man's camp pay. Under this plan the men are allowed to retain the shoes as their personal property, whereas under the system by which shoes were issued to state militiamen through the federal government, they were charged against each man and accounted for on state property returns.

Shoes at half price are provided only for such enlisted men as perform the tour of duty in camp.

After Three Years

Colorado Springs Testimony Remains Unshaken.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Colorado Springs story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Mrs. C. W. Brewer, 316 S. Institute St., Colorado Springs, says: "Many years ago, while we were living in Missouri, we first used Doan's Kidney Pills. The one who used them was in a bad way with kidney complaint. Doctors' treatments had not seemed to make any improvement, but as soon as Doan's Kidney Pills were used there was a change for the better. They brought such good results that I willingly recommended them. Doan's Kidney Pills can be procured at the D. Y. Butcher Drug Co." (Statement given February 26, 1909.

A Lasting Cure.

On October 22, 1912, Mrs. Brewer said: "The statement I made about Doan's Kidney Pills nearly four years ago was entirely correct. I and another of my family who used them have been cured of kidney complaint. I willingly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

SEN. OBADIAH GARDNER REFUSES PENSION JOB

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Former Senator Obadiah Gardner of Maine having refused the offer of commissioner of pensions, it was learned today, friends of Dr. D. C. Gentach of New Philadelphia, Ohio, have renewed their efforts on his behalf for the place.

There are a number of other aspirants for the place, however, and Secretary Lane is understood to be canvassing the field carefully.

Mr. Gardner is credited with refusing the offer because he and his friends did not believe the place was the opinion that he "deserved something better." Mr. Gardner had been prominently mentioned for the position of secretary of agriculture when President Wilson was making up his cabinet.

Mrs. Magdalena Herrman, dead in New York, leaves a fund of $12,000 for the suport of two pet dogs.
